Dear Colleague:

It is an exciting time at the State Bar, where our studies on the future of the delivery of legal services are about to move into decisions and implementation. Now more than ever, we need the solid commitment of a plentiful, diverse array of our membership to come forward and serve on our committees. Committee members' voices have the potential to help shape our planning and strategizing while maintaining valuable existing programs and roles.

Only you can decide whether a commitment to Bar work is right for you. Committee service can be demanding, so please make sure you can prepare for and attend meetings several times during the year. I find investing time in Bar work is incredibly fulfilling, adding otherwise unparalleled meaning to my career. By joining the rich history of service to the Bar through participation as a member of one of the many SBM committees, you may play a meaningful role in the Bar's efforts to improve justice in Michigan. Active use of an e-mail address is required for committee work. You should also know that travel, lodging, and other personal expenses of attending committee meetings are not reimbursed.

A list of committees is at <http://www.michbar.org/generalinfo/committees>. If you have questions about a committee, please check the roster and contact the staff liaison for that committee. Applying for a committee appointment is easy—visit the website and submit the requested information such as your résumé or curriculum vitae by April 29. You'll also receive an e-mail with a link to the electronic application in early April. I will review the applications and make committee appointments by September 1. Although we cannot guarantee everyone a position on every committee he or she wishes to join, I will strive to productively use your willingness to volunteer in the Bar's ongoing quest to improve the profession and help the public.

Sincerely,

Lawrence P. Nolan, President-Elect
State Bar of Michigan
