Michigan Judiciary

CIRCUIT COURTS

A number of circuit and probate judges have been assigned to hear cases in the family division of the circuit court. Probate judges assigned to the family division remain probate judges, although they may be assigned to hear cases in the family division on a full-time or part-time basis.

Persons wishing to identify the judges in a circuit court who have been assigned to the family division should contact that circuit court.

PROBATE COURTS

A number of circuit and probate judges have been assigned to hear cases in the family division of the circuit court. Probate judges assigned to the family division remain probate judges, although they may be assigned to hear cases in the family division on a full-time or part-time basis.

Persons wishing to identify the judges in a circuit court who have been assigned to the family division should contact that circuit court.
