

State Bar of Michigan Advertising Disclaimer

Publisher's copy protective clause. Appearance of an advertisement in any of our publications does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement by the State Bar of Michigan of goods or services ordered. The opportunity to advertise in the Bar Journal is contingent upon available space, and publication is at the discretion of the editor. The publisher reserves the right to reject any advertising not in keeping with the publisher's standard. The publisher reserves the right to repeat previous ad copy if new copy is not received by the closing date. All copy is subject to publisher's approval. The contents of advertisements that appear in any State Bar of Michigan publication are solely the responsibility of the advertisers and advertising agencies. Advertisers and advertising agencies assume liability for all content (including text, representations and illustrations, and any material on a website to which the advertisement provides a link or reference) of advertisements printed, and also assume responsibility for any claims arising thereof made against the publisher. Advertisers represent and warrant that they possess the necessary rights to permit the use of the advertisement and of any content on any website referenced or linked to in the advertisement, for the purpose of this Agreement, and that the content complies with all relevant laws and regulations. Advertisers further represent and warrant that the use, reproduction, distribution, or transmission of the advertisement will not violate any criminal laws, regulations, or the rights of third parties. Such violations include, but are not limited to, infringement or misappropriation of a copyright, patent, trademark, trade secret, music, image, or other proprietary or property right; false advertising; unfair competition; defamation; slander of the title; invasion of privacy or rights of celebrity; violation of any antidiscrimination law or regulation; or any other right of any person or entity. Advertisers agree to indemnify and to keep indemnified the State Bar of Michigan, its directors, employees and agents, without limitation, and to hold them harmless from any and all liability, loss, damages, claims, or causes of action, including legal fees and expenses, that may be incurred by the State Bar of Michigan arising out of the publication of the advertiser's material. At the discretion of the Publisher, advertisers may be required to provide proof of insurance of coverage for any of the foregoing forms of liability and to list the State Bar of Michigan as an additional insured on the policy.

Stipulations The publisher shall not be liable for any costs or damages if for any reason it fails to publish an advertisement. The publisher's liability for any error will not exceed the cost of the space occupied by the error or the erroneous ad. Paid advertisements will not be accepted for publication in the President's Page and Executive Director's View Points column.

Advertising Terms Advertisements that have been accepted and are later found to be fraudulent or misleading in the judgment of the Publisher, and advertisements that are the subject of a lawsuit, will be removed from the State Bar publication. The State Bar will not provide a refund for advertisements removed under those conditions. Fraudulent or misleading ads include, but are not limited to, advertisements that order a product or service that is not delivered, and advertisements that are judged to mislead readers into buying something other than the advertised product or service, and advertisements from companies subject to unresolved complaints to the Better Business Bureau.
