Explanation of the position, including any recommended amendments:

- 1) The statutory change expands a notary's duties far beyond that which exists today. Currently, a notary is only required to confirm that the person signing is in fact the person named in the instrument.
- 2) The statutory change would require a notary to determine matters which are not easily determinable (i.e., competency and understanding of the substance of the transaction).
- 3) The statutory change would make it more difficult to find notaries willing to notarize documents, and may lead to notary shopping.

- 4) The statutory change would lead to inadvertent disclosure of confidential information to a person who is not a party to the transaction.
- 5) Disabled persons could be discriminated against by a notary who believes that, because of the person's disability (i.e.: blindness or physical limitations), the person is unable to understand the transaction.
