

By Naseem Stecker and Mike Eidelbes

Macomb Bar Wins NABE Luminary Award for Best Web Design

Dawn M. Fraylick from the Macomb County Bar Association (MCBA) proudly displays the Luminary Award she won at a recent meeting of the National Association of Bar Executives (NABE) in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The MCBA won for best web design. The Luminary Awards, presented by NABE's Communications Section, recognize excellence in marketing, public relations, publications, and websites. Winners included representatives from small, medium, and large bar associations from around the country. (Courtesy photo)

Former Governor, Attorney General Mark Environmental Law Milestone

Two of Michigan's longest-serving public officials—former Governor William Milliken (left) and former Attorney General Frank Kelley—helped the State Bar of Michigan Environmental Law Section celebrate its 25th anniversary last month in East Lansing. The pair was instrumental in keeping the state on the cutting edge of environmental law by championing legislation such as the Michigan Environmental Protection Act, the Inland Lakes and Streams Act, and the Wetlands Protection Act. (Photo by Mike Eidelbes)

MLA Celebrates 50 Years

Past presidents of the Michigan Lawyers Auxiliary gathered for a photo recently. The group celebrated its 50th anniversary and is currently led by Sally Purcell. Back row: left to right, Judy Weldy, Helen Smith, Melinda Sheldon, Marjorie Deline, Mary Ann Farris, Norma Stancati, Marjorie Rhead, and Linda Casazza. Front row: Fran Anderson, Sharon Wilson, and Audrey Gray. (Courtesy photo)

