ADJOURNMENT

LEGAL ASSISTANTS SECTION FOUNDERS AWARD
CELEBRATING FIFTEEN YEARS OF AFFILIATE MEMBERSHIP
1990–2005

The Legal Assistants Section of the State Bar of Michigan concludes its 15-year anniversary celebration with special recognition of the individuals who helped make possible affiliate membership for legal assistants. We are grateful for the hard work and dedication of these individuals and will show our appreciation by honoring them with the "Founders Award," to be presented at the section's Annual Meeting on Friday, September 23, 2005 at 10:00 a.m.

The Founders are State Bar members and legal assistants who comprised the State Bar Task Force on Law-Related Professions, which worked to establish the section. Also being recognized are the legal assistants and legal assistant educators who contributed to the organization of the section upon its formation. The section's appreciation is extended to:

- Honorable Gene Schnelz, SBM Task Force on Law-Related Professions
- Robert McKenzie, Esq., deceased, SBM Task Force on Law-Related Professions
- Jennifer Cote, Esq., SBM Task Force on Law-Related Professions
- Kathleen Wilczewski, Legal Assistant Liaison, SBM Task Force on Law-Related Professions
- Charlotte Curiston, Legal Assistant Liaison, SBM Task Force on Law-Related Professions
- Dr. Margaret Rose, deceased, Paralegal Program Director, Macomb Community College
- John Mayer, Esq., deceased, Instructor, Macomb Community College, Paralegal Program
- Suzanne Fogle Schultz, Legal Assistant
- Maurine Payne, Legal Assistant

70th Annual Meeting Speakers

Kellogg Hotel & Conference Center, East Lansing, Michigan

70TH ANNUAL MEETING PROGRAM

Martha Burkett is the assistant program administrator for the State Bar of Michigan Lawyers and Judges Assistance Program. She has a master's in public administration and a master's in counseling education and counseling psychology. She has also earned limited licensure in professional counseling, international certification as a level II addictions counselor, a graduate certificate in holistic health, and certification as an auricular acudetox specialist.

Jeanice Dagher-Margosian is a criminal defense attorney with a concentration in post-conviction work. She has special expertise in psychological and state of mind defenses. She is past president of the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan and has served as adjunct faculty at Thomas M. Cooley Law School, teaching a course on battered women who kill in self-defense.

Robert D. Fleischner is an attorney at the Center for Public Representation in Northampton, Massachusetts where he specializes in mental health law. He litigates cases involving school desegregation, fair housing, civil commitment, right to treatment, community services, and prisoners' rights. He has authored articles in law reviews and professional journals and is the co-author of Guardianship and Conservatorship in Massachusetts.

Gary M. Goss is the deputy director of the Michigan Sheriffs' Association, where he serves on a workgroup for the Governor's Task Force on the Mentally Ill that concentrates on collaboration and cooperation between Community Mental Health, Criminal Justice, and Corrections. He retired as the director of public safety for the city of Farmington.

Dan Holloway is the coordinator of the Oakland County Community Mental Health Jail Diversion Program; he has been in this position for just over two years. He is a licensed social worker, and has worked for 15 years in the public mental health system. He is also the father of two sons.

Victoria V. Kremiski is deputy regulation counsel at the State Bar of Michigan. She serves as staff counsel to the Unauthorized Practice of Law Committee and the Client Protection Fund. She is responsible for handling ethics inquiries from attorneys and for coordinating the State Bar's UPL and CPF programs. She is a graduate of the University of Denver School of Law and Fort Lewis College, and has authored several Michigan Bar Journal articles.

James Martin is the coordinator of the Kent County Mental Health Jail Diversion program; he has been in this position for the past year and a half. A graduate of the University of Michigan with a master's in social work, he worked in domestic violence probation in Washtenaw County (Ann Arbor) and home-based counseling with distressed families in Lansing before working in jail diversion in Kent County.

Hon. Donald H. Passenger serves the 61st District Court in Grand Rapids. A moderately advanced computer user, he has frequently taught computer skills to other judges and attorneys at seminars sponsored by the Grand Rapids Bar Association, the Michigan Judicial Institute, and ICLE. Judge Passenger also teaches in an adjunct capacity for the computer information department at Davenport University.

John W. Reed is an attorney and Thomas M. Cooley Professor of Law Emeritus at the University of Michigan Law School in Ann Arbor, Michigan. In addition to his decades of service on the Michigan faculty, Professor Reed has served as dean at the University of Colorado Law School and, in retirement, at Wayne State University School of Law. He has received distinguished service awards from the American College of Trial Lawyers, the Association of Continuing Legal Education Administrators, and the State Bar of Michigan. He is an Academic Fellow of the International Society of Barristers and serves as its administrative director and editor. Mr. Reed's law degrees are from Cornell and Columbia.

Patricia A. Streeter is licensed in Michigan and Illinois and practices civil rights, commercial, and international law in Ann Arbor. She earned her juris doctor degree from the Detroit College of Law and her masters of law degree in international business and trade law from The John Marshall Law School in Chicago. She is an also an adjunct professor at the Vytautas Magnus University Law School in Kaunas, Lithuania.

Nancy Werner has been a licensed attorney in Illinois since 1982 (now retired) and in Michigan since 1998. She serves as a committee member for the Lawyers and Judges Assistance Program and has worked with the LJAP since 1999 as a volunteer. Currently, Nancy authors "Holistically Speaking," a quarterly column, for the Law Practice Management Section newsletter. She also facilitated non-denominational meditation instruction for a variety of groups.
