RE: ADM File No. 2015-14: Proposed Amendments of the Judicial Tenure Commission Rules

Dear Clerk Royster:

The State Bar of Michigan (SBM) thanks the Michigan Supreme Court for the opportunity to comment on the proposed amendments to the rules on the Judicial Tenure Commission (JTC), Subchapter 9.200 et seq. of the Michigan Court Rules.

SBM is committed to promoting improvements in the administration of justice and strengthening the relationship between the legal profession and public. Judges play an integral role in the administration of justice and the public's perception of the legal profession; therefore, it is vital that the rules governing judges also promote these values.

Given the importance and extensiveness of the proposed amendments, SBM appointed an Advisory Workgroup composed of highly experienced judges and lawyers having particular knowledge regarding the JTC and attorney grievance proceedings to review the proposed amendments.1 The Workgroup engaged in intensive examination and discussion of the proposed rules. Throughout its review, the Workgroup focused on the impact of the proposed rules on the interest of the public and the integrity of the judiciary. The Workgroup presented its recommendations to the SBM Board of Commissioners (the Board), which engaged in further review and discussion of the proposed rules to reach the following recommendations.

1. The Current Language of MCR 9.202(B)(2) Should Be Retained to Allow the JTC to Consider Allegations of Misconduct that Occurred While a Judge Was Previously Engaged in the Practice of Law.

The Board opposes the proposed amendment set forth in Rule 9.202(B)(2), which limits the jurisdiction of the JTC to “conduct that occurs during a judicial campaign or while the judge is service as a judicial officer.” Under this amendment, the JTC does not have jurisdiction over

1 The Advisory Workgroup was composed of the following members: John F. Van Bolt (chair), Hon. Marianne O. Battani, Richard O. Cherry, Thomas W. Cranmer, Nancy J. Diehl, Pamela R. Harwood, James W. Heath, Stephanie J. LaRose, Kenneth M. Mogill, Alisa Parker, Hon. David A. Perkins, Jeannie Stempien, Hon. Michael J. Talbot, Donald R. Visser, Hon. Tracey A. Yokich, Mark A. Armitage (ex officio), and Alan M. Gershel (ex officio).
any allegations of misconduct that occurred while a judge was engaged in the practice of law before taking judicial office. As the JTC noted in its October 10, 2016 letter to the Supreme Court (JTC Comments), the proposed amendment to Rule 9.202(B)(1) “creates a gap for misconduct by sitting judges that occurred while they were attorneys prior to taking office,” because “MCR 9.116(A) bars the Attorney Grievance Commission from acting against a sitting judge.” JTC Comments, at 1-2. Therefore, under the proposed Rule, a judge would be exempt from both the judicial and lawyer disciplinary systems for misconduct that occurred while an attorney and not engaged in a judicial campaign.

The interests of the public and the integrity of the judiciary are best protected if judges are subject to judicial discipline regardless of when the alleged misconduct occurred. While one may argue that limiting the jurisdiction as proposed by the Rule may be appropriate because the public offers its opinion on judicial fitness through the electoral process, there have been cases where the attorney misconduct did not come to light until after the lawyer took the bench. For example, a judge was removed from office for misappropriating clients’ settlement funds while engaged in the practice of law. It was not until the judge took office and the clients obtained new counsel that they discovered that their money had been converted. See In re Loyd, 424 Mich 514 (1986). Similarly, another judge was publicly censured for engaging in self-dealing while representing clients in a real estate transaction. See In re Rumco, 463 Mich 517 (2001). If the proposed Rule had already been in effect, these sitting judges would have been immune from discipline, which would have resulted in substantial harm to the public.

Maintaining the JTC’s authority to consider allegations of misconduct that occurred while the judge was previously engaged in the practice of law is also supported by the American Bar Association (ABA). Rule 2 of the ABA Model Rules for Judicial Disciplinary Enforcement provides that “[t]he commission has jurisdiction over judges regarding allegations that misconduct occurred before or during service as a judge and regarding allegations of incapacity during service as a judge.”

Finally, the proposed amendment would not have a significant impact on the efficiency of the JTC to justify limiting its jurisdiction in this way. In 2015, only 1% of the grievances – approximately 5 grievances total – alleged that a judge engaged in misconduct as an attorney. See JTC Annual Report 2015, at 10, <http://jtc.courts.mi.gov/annual_report/docs/2015AnnualReport.pdf> (accessed November 22, 2016).

For these reasons, the Board recommends that the Court retain the current language of MCR 9.202(B)(2) that allows the JTC to consider allegations of misconduct “regardless whether the conduct occurred before or after the respondent became a judge or was related to judicial office.”
2. MCR 9.220(C) Should Not Impose a Presumptive Three-Year Statute of Limitations for Filing a Formal Complaint Against a Judge.

The Board opposes the proposed amendments set forth in Rule 9.220(C) imposing a presumptive three-year statute of limitations for filing a formal complaint against a judge.

The purpose of the JTC is to “preserve the integrity of the judicial system, to enhance public confidence in that system, and to protect the public, the courts, and the rights of judges.” MCR 9.200. Imposing a presumptive statute of limitations that would bar the filing of a formal complaint for conduct that occurred more than three years ago is antithetical to these purposes. While the amount of time that has passed may be relevant in determining whether and to what extent discipline should be imposed, misconduct, no matter when it occurred, is always relevant to a judge’s fitness to hold office.

While one may argue that imposing a statute of limitations ensures that grievants assert claims in a timely manner, there are several reasons that a substantial lapse of time between the date of the alleged misconduct and the filing of a formal complaint may occur. Procedurally, a formal complaint is not filed until (1) the grievant has submitted a Request for Investigation, (2) the JTC has completed its initial investigation, and (3) the respondent has had an opportunity to respond. Additionally, grievants may be unwilling to file a Request for Investigation against a judge until their case before that judge is resolved. As the JTC explained, “[I]t is essential for a judge to be aware of the facts in the case before he can make an informed decision.” JTC Comments at 4. Also, it may take considerable time to discover certain types of judicial misconduct, such as fraud. Even after a Request for Investigation is filed, the JTC must conduct a thorough investigation, including locating evidence and securing the cooperation of witnesses. Importantly, the JTC bears the burden of proof, requiring it to engage in a careful and thoughtful analysis of the evidence.

While the proposed Rule creates an exception to the statute of limitations upon a showing a good cause, the proposed Rule is silent as to what constitutes good cause. Even a well-defined good cause exception would not remedy the Board's concerns because the JTC would still have discretion to bar allegations of misconduct that occurred over three years ago. All misconduct is relevant to a judge’s fitness to hold office; therefore, allowing the JTC to not file a formal complaint of misconduct solely because it is time-barred is detrimental to the interest of the public and the integrity of the judiciary.

Notably, the Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct (MRPC) do not impose a statute of limitations for the prosecution of attorney misconduct, and, in this respect, judicial misconduct should be treated the same under the Michigan Code of Judicial Conduct (MCJC). Michigan's approach in the attorney discipline context is consistent with Rule 32 of the ABA Model Rules for Lawyer Disciplinary Enforcement, which explicitly exempts all statute of limitations for lawyer disciplinary proceedings. As the comments to ABA Rule 32 explain, “[s]tatute of limitations are wholly inappropriate in lawyer disciplinary proceedings. Conduct of a lawyer, no matter when it has occurred, is always relevant to the question of fitness to practice.” Likewise, the ABA Model Rules for Judicial Disciplinary Enforcement do not include a statute of limitations for alleged judicial misconduct. The rationale articulated in the ABA comments is persuasive, and Michigan should continue to embrace this approach.

Therefore, the Board recommends that the Court not adopt the three-year statute of limitations set forth in proposed MCR 9.220(C).

3. MCR 9.225(A) Should Be Further Amended to Require Automatic Interim Suspension of a Judge Without Pay upon a Felony Conviction and Allow the JTC Broader Discretion When It May Recommend an Interim Suspension.

The Board proposes further amendments to MCR 9.202(A)(2) and (A)(3) to require automatic interim suspension of a judge without pay upon conviction of a felony and to expand the circumstances in which the JTC may recommend that a judge be placed on interim suspension.

a. MCR 9.202(A)(2)

The proposed amendment to subparagraph (A)(2), as currently written, raises two major concerns. First, the proposed Rule does not require an automatic interim suspension of a judge upon conviction of a felony, but rather a felony conviction may be “grounds for” an automatic suspension. Second, the proposed Rule does not require automatic suspension of judicial compensation, but instead the JTC retains discretion to determine whether the suspension is with or without pay.

The Board proposes further amendments to MCR 9.225(A)(2) to require automatic interim suspension of a judge without pay upon conviction of a felony as follows in bold:

(2) In extraordinary circumstances, the commission may petition the Supreme Court for an order suspending a judge respondent from acting as a judge in response to a request for investigation, pending a decision by the commission regarding the filing of a complaint. In such a circumstance, the documents filed with the Court must be kept under seal unless the petition is granted. Conviction of a felony shall result in is grounds for automatic interim suspension, with or without pay, pending action by the commission. If the respondent is suspended without pay, the respondent’s pay shall be held in escrow pending the final resolution of disciplinary proceedings.

These changes better align with the rules governing attorney discipline. MCR 9.120(B) provides that “[o]n conviction of a felony, an attorney is automatically suspended until the effective date of an order filed by the hearing panel under MCR 9.115(J).” Because justices and judges are required to be licensed to practice law to be qualified to hold judicial office, the judicial disciplinary rules should parallel the attorney disciplinary rules in this respect. The JTC appears to agree with the Board’s proposal. See JTC Comments, at 10 (approving of proposed Subrule 9.225(A)(2) “particularly as to a suspension without pay, if a judge is convicted of a felony” (emphasis in original)).

b. MCR 9.202(A)(3)

The Board proposes further amendment to MCR 9.202(A)(3) to allow the JTC broader discretion when it may recommend an interim suspension of the judge. As currently written, proposed Rule 9.202(A)(3) sets forth one additional circumstance — allegations of misappropriation of public funds — in which the JTC may petition the Supreme Court to suspend a respondent without pay. While an allegation of misappropriation of public funds may warrant an interim suspension, there are other circumstances in which the JTC should have the discretion to recommend an interim suspension of a judge. For these reasons, the Board proposes incorporating language from Rule 15 of the ABA Model Rules for Judicial Disciplinary Enforcement, as follows in bold:

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this rule, in a matter in which a respondent poses a substantial threat of serious harm to the public or to the administration of justice is alleged to have misappropriated public funds, the commission may petition the Supreme Court for an order suspending a respondent from acting as a judge without pay in response to a request for investigation, pending a decision by the commission regarding the issuance of a complaint. The respondent’s pay shall be held in escrow pending the final resolution of disciplinary proceedings.

With these changes, the JTC would have the discretion to recommend an interim suspension for a judge alleged to have misappropriated public funds and also for a judge alleged to have engaged in any other conduct that poses a substantial threat of serious harm to the public or to the administration of justice. This approach better aligns with the purpose of the JTC, specifically regarding protection of the public and ensuring the integrity of the judicial system. See MCR 9.200.

For these reasons, the Board recommends that the Court adopt its proposed changes to Rule 9.202(A)(2) and (A)(3), as presented above.

2 Const 1963, art 6, § 19(1) ("Justices and judges of courts of record must be persons who are licensed to practice law in this state."); see also MCL § 168.391(1) (supreme court); MCL § 168.409(1) (court of appeals); MCL § 168.411(1) (circuit court); MCL § 168.426b(1) (municipal court); MCL § 168.431(1) (probate court); MCL § 168.467(1) (district court).
3 Rule 15(3) of the ABA Model Rule for Judicial Enforcement provides that "[a]ffirm receipt of sufficient evidence demonstrating that a judge poses a substantial threat of serious harm to the public or to the administration of justice, the highest court may transfer the judge to incapacity inactive status or suspend the judge pending a final determination in any proceeding under these Rules."
4. MCR 9.236 Should Be Further Amended to Allow the Master’s Report to Only Include Findings of Fact, and Not Conclusions of Law.

The Board proposes additional amendments to MCR 9.236 to limit the role of the master to making findings of fact only. As currently proposed, MCR 9.236 continues to allow a master to issue a report setting forth both findings of fact and conclusions of law.

Historically, the master functioned solely as a factfinder. Over time, however, the report of the master has included both findings of fact and conclusions of law. Allowing the master’s report to include initial conclusions of law poses the risk of transforming the JTC from an adjudicatory body to an appellate body. The Board believes that the public and the integrity of the judicial system are best protected by requiring the members of the JTC to exercise their judgment in reaching initial conclusions of law.

Therefore, the Board proposes deleting “and conclusions of law” from MCR 9.236, as follows in bold:

The court reporter shall prepare a transcript of the proceedings conducted before the master within 21 days of the conclusion of the hearing, filing the original with the commission, and serving copies on the respondent (or the respondent’s attorney) and disciplinary counsel, by e-mail. Within 21 days after a transcript of the proceedings is provided, the master shall prepare and transmit to the commission in duplicate a report that contains a brief statement of the proceedings and findings of fact with respect to the issues presented by the complaint and the answer. The report must be accompanied by three copies of the transcript of the proceedings by the master. On receiving the report and the transcript, the commission must promptly send a copy of each to the respondent, unless the master has already done so.

5. MCR 9.244(B)(1), 9.245(B), and 9.245(C) Sets Forth Appropriate Disclosure Requirements of Prior and Pending Disciplinary Actions.

The Board supports the requirements that all prior and pending disciplinary actions are disclosed to the Supreme Court in commission reports and proposed consent agreements as set forth in MCR 9.244(B)(1), 9.245(B), and 9.245(C). As discussed in Section 2 above, the Board believes that all misconduct – no matter how old – is relevant to a judge's fitness to hold office; therefore, the Board believes that the Supreme Court should have access to at least as much, if not more, information that it has with regard to the attorney grievance process. To the extent that irrelevant information is included in these disclosures, the Board is confident that the Supreme Court can make appropriate relevancy determinations. For these reasons, the Board supports the disclosure requirements set forth in proposed Rules 9.244(B)(1), 9.245(B), and 9.245(C).
6. MCR 9.245(D) Provides the Supreme Court with Overly Expansive Authority to Intervene in JTC Proceedings.

The Board opposes the proposed amendment to Rule 9.245(D). The current Rule only allows the Supreme Court to intervene in a disciplinary proceedings if both the respondent and the commission consent. The proposed amendment to the Rule, however, expands the Supreme Court’s authority to “impose a sanction or take other action at any stage of the proceedings under these rules” without requiring the parties’ consent. Although this authority is included within the rule pertaining to consent agreements, the plain language of the proposed Rule permits the Supreme Court to intervene in a disciplinary action at any point under these rules,” meaning Subchapter 9.200. Therefore, MCR 9.245(D) would allow the Supreme Court to intervene in the disciplinary process at any time after the JTC has opened an investigation.

Even if the proposed amendment is intended to only apply to the Supreme Court’s involvement in consent agreements, the proposed Rule is still problematic because it gives the Supreme Court authority to unilaterally change the terms of a consent agreement without the parties’ consent and without giving the parties the opportunity to re-negotiate the consent agreement or proceed with a formal hearing.

For these reasons, the Board opposes the proposed revisions to MCR 9.245(D); instead, the current language of the Rule should be retained.

7. MCR 9.246(B)(2) Should Be Amended to Allow the JTC to Recover Transcript Costs.

Because the cost of transcripts is a substantial expense that the JTC incurs, the Board supports the JTC’s recommendation to amend Rule 9.246(B)(1) to explicitly include the cost of transcripts in the costs that can be assessed, as follows in bold: “a respondent may be ordered to pay the actual costs, fees, and expenses, and transcript expenses regarding the formal hearing . . .” JTC Comments, at 9.

8. MCR 9.251(B) Should Require Commission Counsel, Rather than Disciplinary Counsel, To Advocate Before the Supreme Court on Behalf of the JTC.

The Board opposes the amendment to Rule 9.251(B), which requires that disciplinary counsel advocate only for the position recommended by the JTC when arguing before the Supreme Court. During JTC proceedings, disciplinary counsel holds a prosecutorial role limited to proving the allegations in the complaint, and disciplinary counsel is excluded from the JTC’s deliberative process. Commission counsel, however, assists the JTC in preparing the position and recommendation. Thus, commission counsel is in a better position to articulate the rationale underlying the JTC’s position to the Supreme Court.

Therefore, the Board supports the JTC’s recommendation to further amend MCR 9.251(B) as follows in bold:
Roles of Commission Counsel and Disciplinary Counsel. If a respondent submits a petition under subsection (A), commission disciplinary counsel shall appear on behalf of the commission, submit the brief of the Commission under sub-rule (C), and shall advocate only for the position recommended by the commission. Filing of documents with the Commission shall be deemed service on Commission Counsel. Disciplinary Counsel's involvement in the case is ended, unless the matter is remanded for further proceedings before the commission or master.

JTC Comments, at 9.

9. MCR 9.252(A) Should Not Alter the Lawyer Disciplinary Process After a Judge Has Been Removed from Office by the JTC.

The Board opposes the proposed amendment to Rule 9.252(A), which alters the attorney grievance process after a judge has been removed from office. Under this proposed amendment, the Attorney Grievance Commission (AGC) is required to investigate a judge who has been removed from office, regardless of the underlying misconduct. Once the AGC completes its investigation, instead of following the procedures set forth in Subchapter 9.100, the AGC may file recommendations for attorney sanctions directly with the Supreme Court, thereby bypassing the Attorney Discipline Board (ADB). The Board opposes both of these changes.

First, the AGC should not be given the option to bypass the usual disciplinary procedure and make its disciplinary recommendations directly to the Supreme Court. The more extensive procedural due process afforded all respondents subject to attorney discipline should continue to apply to attorneys who have been removed from the bench to ensure that respondents receive appropriate attorney discipline that is consistent with what the ADB has imposed in similar cases.

Second, the AGC should be allowed to maintain its broad discretion to decide whether to investigate a former judge who has been removed from office. The proposed amendment seemingly conflicts with MCR 9.116(B), which explicitly gives discretion to the administrator whether or not to take action against a former judge removed from office. While the proposed amendment requires that the AGC to investigate these former judges, a judge may commit judicial misconduct and be removed from office without necessarily committing lawyer misconduct. For these reasons, the Board opposes the requirement that the AGC conduct an investigation for every judge removed from judicial office.

\[\text{As the Court is aware, judges are held to different ethical standards than attorneys. Judges are subject to the eight canons set forth in the Michigan Code of Judicial Conduct, which focus on the preservation of the integrity and independence of the judicial system. Lawyers, on the other hand, are subject to the Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct, which focus on the lawyer's role as a "representative of clients, an officer of the legal}\]
Therefore, the Board opposes the proposed amendments to MCR 9.252(A).

10. MCR 9.261(D)(1) Should Not Delay Public Disclosure of the Complaint.

The Board opposes the proposed amendments to Rule 9.261(D)(1), which require that the complaint only be made public when the “answer has been filed in response (or the time for filing an answer has elapsed).”

While one may argue that temporarily withholding the complaint is beneficial because it allows the public to consider both sides of the matter simultaneously, the Board opposes withholding the complaint for any period of time after it has been filed. The interests of the public and the integrity of the judiciary are best served if there is no delay between the filing of the complaint and its availability to the public.

Delaying public disclosure of the formal complaint to protect the respondent against surprise is unwarranted because the respondent has already been provided with notice and an opportunity to respond to the allegations set forth in the Request for Investigation, and, therefore, should be prepared to address public concerns upon the filing of a formal complaint. Initially treating the complaint as confidential also raises procedural issues (i.e., is the complaint filed under seal, when and how is the seal lifted, etc.).

Therefore, the Board opposes proposed MCR 9.261(D)(1) and recommends that the Rule be amended to require complaints be made public when they are filed.

In conclusion, ethical and capable judges are essential to the administration of justice and maintaining the public’s confidence in our court system. We hope our feedback on the proposed rules is of value to the Court, and we thank the Court for the opportunity to convey the Board’s position.

Sincerely,

Janet K. Welch

system, and a public citizen having special responsibility for the quality of justice.” MRPC 1.0. Thus, a judge may commit judicial misconduct without also committing attorney misconduct.

On September 15, 2015, the State Bar Board of Commissioners sent the Supreme Court a letter stating its 21st Century Practice Task Force would be exploring in depth the use of alternative billing arrangements, including allowing enhanced fees for results obtained. “Rather than preemptively taking a position on this one aspect of billing of legal services, the Board of Commissioners wanted to see what the Task Force recommends,” said the letter.

The Task Force completed its work March 1, 2016, and made several recommendations regarding attorney fee arrangements and use of alternative dispute resolution to resolve lawyer-client fee disputes.¹ The specific Task Force recommendation regarding MRPC 1.5 to be addressed by this Committee:

Draft amendments to MRPC 1.5 to include a definitional section on alternative fee arrangements and to clarify obligations for fee explanations in engagement letters, for consideration by the Representative Assembly.

Committee’s Charge

The Committee’s “deliverable” is to draft a proposed amendment to MRPC 1.5 that includes a definitional section on alternative fee arrangements and to clarify obligations for fee explanations in engagement letters.

Timing and Next Steps

Although the Task Force anticipated the Representative Assembly would consider the draft amendment to MRPC 1.5, the Representative Assembly meets on April 29, 2016, and the deadline for submitting proposals is 42 days beforehand, which is March 18, 2016 (after this committee meets). Therefore, the Board of Commissioners will take up the proposed amendment at its June 10, 2016 meeting on Mackinac Island and subsequently follow up with the Supreme Court.

Preparation for the Meeting

Committee members should review the prior proposed amendments and comment letters (see hyperlinked text above) prior to the meeting.

¹ Create a quick, responsive SBM system for advisory, prospective review of fee arrangements, in collaboration with the Attorney Discipline System; increase education of members on existing ethics opinions about fee arrangements and options; create an arbitration program to resolve attorney client fee disputes; and create a client fee dispute mediation program, excepting significant MRPC 8.3 violations.
Article VI § 6, Bylaws of the State Bar of Michigan
No later than May 1 of each year, the chair of each committee and sub entity of the Bar, with the assistance of the staff liaison, shall report to the Executive Director on a form provided by the State Bar on the activities and accomplishments of the committee or sub entity.

Resources provided by the State Bar of Michigan in support of committee work:

Extensive research on modest means in Michigan and nationally, site visit to the Washtenaw County Bar Association, telephone consultation with Will Hornsby of the ABA Committee on Delivery of Legal Services, telephone meeting support, report writing.
Committee Activities:

The Committee on Justice Initiatives Co-Chairs Linda Rexer and Erika Davis appointed a Modest Means work group to assess what would be needed in Michigan to establish a modest means delivery system as recommended by the 21st Century Practice Task Force. Members were promised that work would be concluded within three telephone meetings. Members reviewed and reacted to extensive materials assembly by staff and provided direction and input for a final report.
Future Goals and Activities:

The report of the work group, attached, posed many questions and identified much work that needs to be done before a modest means program can be established in Michigan.

1. Client eligibility set at 200% of poverty guidelines
2. Additional category of clients includes those who are below poverty guidelines but whose legal matter does not fit within legal aid program’s priorities (e.g. Chapter 7 bankruptcy to stop a wage garnishment)
3. Best to have an intake partner screen and refer callers from a specific geographic area; alternative is to develop online intake form or have State Bar LRS staff screen telephone callers. Note: Michigan Legal Help has offered to create an online intake interview form for this purpose, to get online visitors to a State Bar staff person on the other end; resource could be available this summer.
4. Pilot geographic area depends in part on ability to recruit critical mass of lawyers willing to participate
5. Participating lawyers are required to have online directory photo, bio, and malpractice insurance, to participate in a brief orientation program explaining goals and fee boundaries, and to comply with other panel requirements regarding fees, etc.
6. Participating lawyers can consider the work as pro bono under Michigan’s Voluntary Standard
7. Applies to limited number of case types for a flat fee (e.g. $500 bankruptcies) Research on appropriate cases and fees needs to be conducted
8. Applies to limited number of case types for a reduced fee (e.g. family law matters, $75.00 per hour with a $750.00 retainer.) Research on appropriate cases and fees needs to be conducted.
9. Mechanics of referral process and payment of fees flexible depending on other elements in the State Bar online legal resource and referral center
10. Lawyers and clients should be asked to make a good faith effort to complete online evaluation on completion of case
11. Fast timeline requires small and modest pilot
12. Project to be coordinated in collaboration with other stakeholders
13. Recommended that limited scope representation be decided promptly so more case options can be added to program (e.g. serve custody complain and obtain preliminary order)

RE: State Bar of Michigan
Lawyer Referral Service
Modest Means Panel Pilot Project Proposal
In collaboration with (to be established with referral sources, CALL, MLH, bar association, SBM sections, others to be identified)

Introduction

This work group was appointed by CJI co-chairs Linda Rexer and Erika Davis in late November of 2016 to develop a proposal to explore modest means legal services in Michigan to be piloted as part of the State Bar’s modernized and expanded Lawyer Referral Service (LRS) program. The proposal was to be guided by the recommendations in the 21st Century Practice Task Force report, and ready to be implemented in early 2017. The work group met by phone three times: December 8, 2016, January 6, and February 7, 2017. Because of the limited time available to develop such a program, the recommendations of the work group are modest; more time and thought would be necessary to develop a proposal larger in scope.

Modest Means Programs – National

The group reviewed a December 6, 2016 memo prepared by Jeff Barker regarding U.S. modest means program overview, and a snapshot of some modest means programs, attached. There are countless modest means programs successfully operating around the country. It also reviewed “Operating a Successful Modest Means Program” checklist presented at the October 2012 American Bar Association National Lawyer Referral Workshop in order to learn from the work of others and incorporate best practices into its proposal. The checklist is attached.

Modest Means Programs - Michigan

Staff identified five Michigan modest means efforts, and work group members familiarized themselves with those:
• The Washtenaw County Bar Association has a small family law modest means program that runs through its SBM-recognized LRS organized under Michigan Rule of Professional Conduct 6.3.
• Justice for our Neighbors in western Michigan is reported to have a sliding scale or a voluntary donation program for people over 200% of poverty guidelines.
• The Access to Bankruptcy Court Access to Justice (ATJ) program provides reduced fee services to people under 150% of poverty guidelines; the program pays lawyers up to $400 for completion of a Chapter 7 bankruptcy filing. While not a service available to people over 150% of the poverty guidelines, it does show a willingness by some lawyers to accept reduced fee cases.
• The Marquette County Bar Association, with Legal Services of Northern Michigan, attempted a modest means program, with Northern doing intake and making referrals. There was little activity and it has been dormant for a few years.
• Legal Aid and Defender Association of Detroit proposed a modest means program in 2013 but it did not advance due to concerns of the SBM professional responsibility staff.

Proposal

After reviewing materials and discussing options three times, the work group makes this proposal for a pilot modest means program in Michigan. The proposal is limited to those with incomes under 200% of poverty level; it is not a sliding scale program for those with higher incomes. Work group members believe that establishing higher income levels might cause competition with local private practitioners, especially in more rural areas where private lawyers may charge less for legal services than larger or wealthier communities.

The proposal also uses relatively lower figures because one of its features is to consider the work as pro bono under Michigan Voluntary Pro Bono Standard #3, “Providing a minimum of thirty hours of professional services at no fee or at a reduced fee to persons of limited means....” In addition, intake numbers from Michigan’s Counsel and Advocacy Law Line (CALL), were reviewed when the group was considering income guidelines. When considering up to 300% income, there was a sufficient pool of potential clients to likely support a pilot program.

Purpose:

This project explores the opportunities and challenges of

• Providing access to legal services to those who do not meet federal and legal aid program poverty levels but do not have resources to pay for legal services
• Providing access to legal services to those who meet federal and legal aid program poverty levels but whose legal matters do not fit within the priorities of their local legal aid program

1 Poverty guidelines are attached; note that most Michigan legal aid programs apply a 150% poverty level to clients. To qualify as an Access to Justice Fund recognized program, no more than 200% of poverty level can be used.
2 When considering what income level should be established, the group looked at CALL statistics to see that in 2016, 438 callers were ineligible for service because they were between 200 and 250% of poverty guidelines. About 200 callers were rejected because they were between 250 and 300% of poverty guidelines. More information on the types of cases involved is not readily available. Work group member Edwards provided this update after the work of the group was completed: “From 1/1/2014-12/31/2016 there were a total of 193 cases that were rejected for folks between 150-200% of the poverty level. Of the 193 cases, 84 of those cases were rejected for being over income with no qualified expenses. The remainder of folks were rejected for being over asset.”
• Addressing the perception of the public that legal services are not affordable
• Exploring an untapped market for legal services
• Assisting courts and judges in expanding representation to litigants in courtroom settings
• Making the most efficient, effective, and appropriate referrals between lawyers and clients
• Strengthening the legal services delivery system by coordinating with other organizational partners and exploring with them some innovations identified by the 21st Century Practice Task Force

What do we want to learn from the pilot project?

• Who can be helped by this program (data)
• Will lawyers readily participate
• Will the public avail itself of the program
• What is the capacity of SBM to successfully match clients and lawyers in a cost-effective manner
• What can SBM do to help panel members succeed in this practice
• What case categories are not on our list but requested by the public or identified by partners?
• Assuming success in the pilot, what must SBM do to expand the program?
• How do we assure the pilot is appropriate for eventual integration with statewide triage and online intake goals

Who is eligible for referrals to modest means panel lawyers?

• Those whose income is up to 200% of poverty guidelines, have less than $5,000 in liquid assets³ and have an ability to pay
  o A $xx consultation fee to the modest means panel member, to be credited to the flat fee legal fee if a retainer is signed⁴ o The remaining legal fee at the time a retainer is signed OR
  o A $xx consultation fee to the modest means panel member, to be credited to the reduced fee retainer agreement if a retainer is signed; the retainer fee must be paid at the time the retainer is signed
• Those whose income and assets are within their local legal aid program’s guidelines, whose legal matter is not within the legal aid program’s priority areas, and have an ability to pay
  o A $xx consultation fee to the modest means panel member, to be credited to the legal fee if a retainer is signed o The remaining legal fee in a timely manner – i.e. half of the legal fee when a retainer agreement is signed and half of the legal fee when the case is about to conclude o OR
  o A $xx consultation fee to the modest means panel member, to be credited to the reduced fee retainer agreement if a retainer is signed
• Those with legal issues in o Family law (reduced rate)

³ Income and asset levels vary in modest means programs around the country. This proposal uses relatively lower figures because one of its features is to consider the work as pro bono under Michigan Voluntary Pro Bono Standard #3, “Providing a minimum of thirty hours of professional services at no fee or at a reduced fee to persons of limited means....”
⁴ Many models are used to collect administrative or consultation fees from modest means clients. This is just one suggestion on how a modest means program could work in Michigan.
Who is eligible to be a modest means LRS panel lawyer?

- Those who are interested in exploring innovations in the delivery of legal services to people of modest means
- Those with tech competence and the ability to communicate with LRS through an online portal
- Those with an enhanced online directory presence including a photo and bio with information about qualifications in practice area
- Lawyers who meet the general LRS guidelines (malpractice and other) and who meet special modest means panel guidelines including a commitment to collecting the consultation fee from the client or otherwise complying with the modest means panel guidelines and fee requirements
- Lawyers who agree to participate in a brief orientation including information on goals of the program and appropriate fee boundaries
- Those who will provide flat fee legal services such as
  - $500 for Chapter 7 bankruptcy (based on successful experience of ATJ Bankruptcy program in Eastern District – low income clients served by private lawyers paid by the program [not the client] a total of $400 with half up front and half at time of discharge/case closure. The $335 filing fee is generally subject to fee waiver but client must pay in some circumstances.)
  - Reduced rates for family law matters, i.e., $75 per hour with a $750 retainer fee PROVIDED the client is furnished with a written guide on how to budget for legal fees and how to be most efficient in communicating with lawyer and moving case forward, and PROVIDED the lawyer and client touch base on progress and process moving forward when the agreed upon hours are about to be reached
  - Other rates and case types as indicated by data and further discussion

How will the program be evaluated?

- Lawyers and clients will be asked to complete an online evaluation survey at the conclusion of the case; appropriate questions need to be developed
- Other methods to be identified

Why would lawyers want to participate in the pilot?

- Newer lawyers:
  - Cases provide guaranteed income
  - Cases provide exposure and opportunity to interact with clients, court personnel, judges, other lawyers
  - Cases provide opportunities to market and build business

5 Additional work needs to be done to identify more case types and appropriate flat fees.
6 Work group members were also briefed by memo on Goldfarb v Virginia State Bar, 421 U.S. 773 (1975) and were satisfied that fixed fees like those used in many modest means programs do not violate the Sherman Act and do not constitute “price fixing.”.
• Mentorship possibilities. Note, this element would involve more administrative resources.

  • More experienced lawyers:
    o Cases provide guaranteed income
    o Cases provide opportunity to give back
      ▪ To the public
      ▪ To newer lawyers through possible mentorship services

  • All lawyers:
    o Cases qualify as pro bono under paragraph 3 of the Voluntary Standard o Build experience and skills in improving tech competency o Explore innovations in the delivery of legal services

Who will screen callers for income, asset, and case type eligibility?

• Preferably a willing organizational partner with existing intake screening and efficient referral skills that can refer/transfer callers to SBM LRS staff for phone assistance. CALL is one example. Note, however, that legal aid programs may be reluctant to spend additional resources on matters for which they are not funded. Other possibilities are

  1. A willing organizational partner like MLH who can include a general income and case type screening and direct online intake visitors to click a link that sends an application to the State Bar LRS. Note: Michigan Legal Help has offered to create an online intake interview form for this purpose, to get online visitors to a State Bar staff person on the other end; resource could be available this summer.

• Potential clients unable to fill out the form online could be directed to call State Bar LRIS staff, who would fill out the online application via the phone, or

• A State Bar of Michigan developed online intake system similar to the State of Washington’s, see https://mmoi.legalsolver.org/modules/matter/extern_intake.php?pid=125&h=84ee0d or

• State Bar LRS telephone staff if necessary

  Participating panel lawyers agree to accept the screening undertaken by staff and agree to contact staff for further eligibility review if they have cause to question income or asset information

Who will develop written standards, protocols, forms, and online or paper applications?

• This piece of the project could take considerable time, and sufficient resources need to be identified. Sample documents from the Oregon State Bar Modest means Program are attached.

How long will the project run and will it be limited by geography?

• TBD based on partnership possibilities

Other questions

  • Who are our likely partners to embrace the program, refer clients, help recruit panel members?
  • How do we engage them to join us?
  • What level of experience is required of panel members/how is that evaluated
  • What number of lawyers do we need before opening the program?
• Should we involve SBM sections in developing program and recruiting panel members?
• Should the program be limited to telephone callers only?
• Should we build in mentorship opportunities?
• How do we market and communicate?
• How do we communicate with other LRS programs and engage their understanding and support?

Other concerns

• Work group members understand the State Bar wants this to be developed and implemented quickly; it prefers that developing this panel be more carefully integrated with the statewide online intake/MLH/triage system
• Because of the rapid development of a new program, work group members recommend that the pilot project be very limited in case type and area served
• Work group members do not want to see the pilot program become a vehicle of conflict with other LRS, legal aid, or ATJ program providers, but encourage collaborations with others
• Work group members understand that the State Bar is interested in developing a sliding scale program but the complexity of understanding those issues and developing a project proposal require more time than contemplated by this assignment.

I. Introduction
A number of lawyer referral programs around the country offer some sort of modest means program, either within the normal lawyer referral service or as a standalone project organized by local bar associations and also through the state bar's lawyer referral service. At least one modest means program is sponsored by a legal aid office, see information about the Legal Aid of Arkansas modest means panel at http://www.americanbar.org/content/dam/aba/administrative/delivery_legal_services/ls_del_richardson_client-centric_slides.authcheckdam.pdf

II. Income Requirements
All of the modest means programs have a limit on income, though a few programs indicated that the ceiling, usually based on the Federal Poverty Guidelines, may be flexible, and that staff review each application to determine eligibility. When making the eligibility determination, program staff require documentation of income, assets, and debts, creating an accurate financial picture instead of a black-line rule based solely on household size and income. Most, however, have a ceiling between 250%-300% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines.

The Washington State Bar Association’s Moderate Means program has a large window for acceptable incomes, covering between 200%-400%. To counteract any unfairness to clients or participating lawyers which could stem from such a wide range of incomes, they have implemented a sliding scale, gradually increasing the fee as the potential client’s income increases. Oregon’s program is similar, though with a lower default ceiling between 125%-225%, their fees are set at $60, $80, or $100 per hour. Oregon’s eligibility guidelines can be fluid, with LRS employees making determinations on a case-by-case basis after an in-depth review of a potential client’s financial situation and ability to pay. Fee schedules will be discussed in more detail below.

1 A range of income limits are attached as Appendix A.
III. Fee Schedules

Almost all of the Modest Means programs charge a moderate fee for the referral, which includes the initial client consultation. Many of these collect the fee before making the referral, presumably in an effort to establish that it is not a free service, and to partially cover the cost of program administration. Others have the lawyer collect the fee at the initial consultation.

In addition to the initial fee, the modest means programs have set caps on an hourly rate, and devised caps on fixed fees for specific services like uncontested divorces, simple wills, uncontested probate, etc. While many include a hard ceiling for an hourly rate, at least two modest means programs require lawyers to charge a percentage of their regular hourly rate. Washington’s program requires participating lawyers to reduce their fee by 75% for people falling between 200%-250% of the poverty guidelines, but only by 25% for those at 400%.

For those programs with a hard hourly rate ceiling, the most common amount is $75 per hour, though some go as low as $60, or as high as $100 per hour.

In an effort to keep costs from getting out of control, many program set a maximum retainer of $750, and require lawyers to discuss with the client before their accounts dip into the red. New Haven Connecticut’s Modest Means Project requires clients to pay a $500 retainer up front, with a maximum hourly rate of $60. The Indianapolis Bar Association\(^2\) has a unique approach to serving modest means clients. Indy’s modest means program has three separate panels, Bankruptcy, Family, and Criminal, each with a slightly different approach to fees. While each panel limits income to 200%, hourly fees are limited to $75 for family law cases, total cost for bankruptcy is limited to $500, and the criminal cases have set fees depending on which court is hearing the case\(^3\). This innovative approach allows for flexibility within the programs, adapted to the needs of that particular type of practice. Some of the conversations around this issue relate to the developing “flat fee” retainer studied by the 21\(^{st}\) Century Practice Task Force.

On a separate note about fee schedules, some ask whether fee schedules violate the Sherman Act. This question was addressed in Goldfarb \textit{v} Virginia State Bar et al, 421 U.S. 773 (1975), and current modest means programs operate without violating the Sherman Act.

IV. Types of Cases

All of the modest means programs limit their services to specified legal topics, and none provide representation where the preferred outcome is only monetary compensation. Though these programs do not provide counsel on an infinite

\(^3\) Cases in the “Community Court” are limited to $250, with another $250 due if it is transferred to the district court. Other Misdemeanors are limited to $500, with another $250 if the case goes to trial. Type “D” felony cases are limited to $750, with another $500 due if the case goes to trial.
number of legal issues, they still provide a wide array of services. Almost all programs provide support in family law, consumer protection, and probate cases. A large number also offer services for landlord/tenant (both to qualifying landlords and tenants) and even criminal cases.

V. Application Methods
Many of the modest means programs allow prospective clients to fill out the application form electronically, either by downloading a .pdf form to e-mail, mail, or fax back to the referring agency, or by completing the form entirely online. As a matter of client confidentiality, it would be best to limit the amount of information shared through less-secure means like e-mail. A best practice would be to have the application available through a secure web-based form to be completed entirely on the website, though a .pdf version should also be available for those wishing to mail in their application. Almost all of the programs also allowed clients to register via phone, being guided through the application by program staff.

After applications are reviewed and determined to be eligible, program staff contacts the potential client with the name and contact information for a participating lawyer. The lawyer (in Oregon’s program) will receive a copy of the application, review it with the potential client, and make the final eligibility determination. Many programs leave the final eligibility decision to the individual lawyer, who will have the closest interaction with the client.

Included with the application, as well as clearly stated throughout all program documentation is language indicating that these programs are not free, that attorneys will charge for representation, and that only clients that meet the income guidelines can participate. Notably, some of the applications mention that clients will be denied participation if their financial situation shows they will not be able to pay at all, no matter where in the poverty guidelines their income falls.

Some programs have a local legal aid organization do the initial screening to determine if the potential client has a case and meets the income requirements. Washington’s program has law student volunteers provide client screening, conducting legal issue spotting and determining financial eligibility with supervision of program attorneys.

On the lawyer side of the application, many programs outline the maximum fees to be charged and require that the lawyers agree to participate by the program guidelines, including the use of program’s required retainer agreement. Almost all of the programs also required the lawyer to have their own malpractice insurance coverage with $100,000/$300,000 limits.

VI. Conclusion
The existing Modest Means programs share a number of features: to qualify, persons must not qualify for a free legal aid program or other pro bono service; have an income below a threshold, usually between 250% - 300% of the federal poverty guidelines; have limited assets; and have a set ceiling for hourly rates or a fee schedule. Most allow clients to apply electronically or on the phone, and limit to specific legal topics. In addition to the limited hourly rates, many programs set a maximum retainer amount, and require participating lawyers to use a standard retainer agreement. These programs work to provide services to those who do not qualify for legal aid, but could not otherwise afford representation.

Postscript: A comprehensive listing of modest means programs was published by the ABA in 2008. The results report survey questions used on LRS panel members, program listings, standard financial guidelines, description of the financial screening process, description of the fee arrangements/parameters for attorneys, areas of law served, annual referrals and number of attorneys, means used to publicize the program, success ratings of programs and persistent issues.

Modest Means Panelist Information

The Modest Means Program (MMP) is a reduced-fee referral panel designed to make legal services accessible to lower and moderate income people who are ineligible for legal aid. Attorneys who accept MMP referrals agree to charge no more than $35 for an initial consultation, and no more than $60 per hour for any additional services.

Program staff screen client calls for general eligibility (subject matter, client income and location of dispute) and send an application to the potential client. Except for 72-hour eviction cases, clients cannot qualify for MMP without submitting a written application.

As soon as the client returns a completed application, staff reviews the application and determines whether the client qualifies for the program. The staff reminds each client of potential fees including the attorney’s hourly rate (set at approximately ½ of the regular rate), the $35 consultation fee, the need for a retainer fee, and other costs such as filing and service fees. Clients are told that the Modest Means participants are private attorneys with regular caseloads who agree to perform services at a reduced fee for a limited number of clients.

Clients for the MMP qualify if their income does not exceed 200% of the federal poverty guidelines, which translates to approximately $1,496 monthly for a single person or $3,067 for a family of four. The income caps are adjusted annually based on adjustments to the Federal Poverty Guidelines. Restrictions on client assets also apply.

Qualified clients are referred to the MMP attorney who most closely matches the subject matter of the problem within the geographic area of the client. It is up to the attorney and client to decide whether to continue the attorney/client relationship beyond the first office visit.

For further information, call the Referral Services staff at (503) 620-0222 or 1-800-452-8260, extension 408.
Modest Means Policies and Procedures

1. Program

A. Overview

The Modest Means Program is designed to make legal services available to lower income people who are ineligible for legal aid but unable to afford regular attorney fees.

B. Operation

The Referral & Information Services (RIS) Manager shall develop and revise referral procedures and shall be responsible for the operation of the program. Procedures and rules shall be consistent with the program goals and the following guidelines:

1. Staff may not comment on the qualifications of a Panelist and may not guarantee the quality or value of legal services.
2. Staff shall not make referrals on the basis of race, sex, age, religion, sexual orientation, or national origin.
3. No more than three referrals may be made to a client for the same legal problem.
4. RIS staff may provide legal information and referrals to social service agencies for callers for whom a legal referral would not be appropriate, and may develop agency resource lists.
5. Callers complaining about possible ethical violations by Panelists shall be referred to the Oregon State Bar Client Assistance Office.

C. Client Eligibility and Attorney Fees

1. Client income must not exceed 200% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines, with allowable adjustments based on guidelines of the Legal Services Corporation.
2. Attorney fees shall be set at a maximum of one-half of the statewide average of attorneys working in each particular area of law. Fees are to be calculated based on the most recent edition of the Oregon State Bar Economic Survey. The client fee for an initial consultation is $35.

II. Panelists

A. Eligibility

Attorneys satisfying the following requirements shall be eligible for participation in the program:

1. A Panelist must remain an active member of the Oregon State Bar in good standing with malpractice coverage from the Professional Liability Fund and not be the subject of a formal disciplinary proceeding.
2. Panelists against whom disciplinary proceedings have been approved for filing shall be immediately removed from MMP until those charges have been resolved. Disciplinary proceedings shall include those authorized to be filed pursuant to Rule 3.4 of the Rules of Procedure. A matter shall not be considered resolved until all matters relating to the disciplinary proceedings, including appeals, have been concluded and the matter is no longer pending in any form.
3. A Panelist whose status changes from "active member of the Oregon State Bar who is in good standing shall be automatically removed from the MMP.

B. Rules For Panelists

Modest Means Panelist Information

The Modest Means Program (MMP) is a reduced-fee referral panel designed to make legal services accessible to lower and moderate income people who are ineligible for legal aid. Attorneys who accept MMP referrals agree to charge no more than $35 for an initial, in-office consultation, and a reduced rate for any additional services.

Referral & Information Services staff screens calls for general eligibility (subject matter, client income and location of dispute) and either send an application to the client or direct him/her to the MMP program information and PDF application on the bar’s website. Except for 72-hour eviction cases, clients cannot qualify without submitting a written application.

Upon receipt of the client’s completed application, staff reviews it and determines whether the client qualifies for the program. They remind each client of potential fees including the attorney's hourly rate, the $35 initial consultation fee, the need for a retainer deposit, and other costs such as filing and service fees. Clients are told that Modest Means attorneys are private attorneys with regular caseloads who agree to perform services at a reduced fee for a limited number of clients.

Staff pre-qualifies MMP clients. To be eligible, applicant income must be less than or equal to at least one current eligibility tier of the MMP. Tiers are based upon set percentages of the current Federal Poverty Guidelines. Restrictions on client assets also apply. Attorneys’ fee levels are set to correspond with the eligibility tiers. Attorneys’ fee levels are currently set at $60, $80 and $100 per hour. When a referral is made the attorney receives notification of which tier and fee level applies.

Staff sends a copy of the client’s application to the attorney. Since the MMP attorney spends more time with the client, and may discover undisclosed assets during the course of the initial consultation, the attorney remains the final arbiter of whether a client qualifies for the program.

Pre-qualified clients are referred to the attorney whose practice most closely matches the subject matter of the problem and whose office is located near the client. Clients are told that the MMP attorneys do not travel, nor do they ordinarily take clients who live outside of their city/town.

It is up to the attorney and client to decide whether to continue the attorney/client relationship beyond the initial, in-office consultation. If no attorney-client relationship is established, the attorney refers the client back to the MMP.

For further information call the Referral & Information Services staff at (503) 620-0222 or (800) 452-8260, extension 408.

WSBA Moderate Means Program Application for Service

Welcome to the WSBA Moderate Means Program online application. Before you begin the application, we need to provide you with some introductory information. Please read this screen and select the response that indicates that you understand and agree.

What to Expect: This application is designed to help us provide legal assistance to more people than we can if people apply by telephone. We will ask for information about your income, the people who live in your household, and your legal issue. It will take you approximately 10-15 minutes to complete this application. You cannot save this application, so please make sure you have time to finish. To complete the application, you will need information about your household income and the people who live with you.

Privacy: We are collecting this information to determine if you are eligible for the WSBA Moderate Means Program. We will keep all information you provide through this online application confidential. We may share your information with lawyers participating with the WSBA Moderate Means Program during our case referral process.

No Guarantee of Help: This application is a preliminary screening tool. Completing an application does not guarantee that we can help you. You will still need to talk with one of our intake student volunteers to verify your eligibility for the WSBA Moderate Means Program. We cannot handle urgent cases and we cannot guarantee that your case will be referred before your court dates or deadlines.

The WSBA Moderate Means Program does not provide immediate assistance. It can take up to three weeks to place a case, and the program cannot guarantee a referral, particularly in some rural communities where attorney resources are limited. Other legal resources are available if you need immediate assistance.

No Attorney-Client Relationship: Completing an application does not make you a client of the WSBA Moderate Means Program and does not create an attorney-client relationship between you and the WSBA Moderate Means Program.

I have read the information above and agree to the terms described.

Resources provided by the State Bar of Michigan in support of committee work:

See attached information packet.

Robert Mathis, Pro Bono Service and Justice Initiatives Counsel, will serve as the State Administrator of the MI Free Legal Answers website. PBI interns and other State Bar support staff will assist with the day-to-day administration and oversight of the project.

Sarah Nussbaumer provided design expertise for visitor and attorney outreach and recruitment materials.
Committee Activities:

First Meeting Cont'd.
Without much data being available from other states on the amount of time needed to properly administer the project, the workgroup expressed interest in first establishing a pilot project in one geographic area (or county) in Michigan before committing resources to a statewide roll-out. For the initial pilot project, there was consensus among the workgroup members to partner with a local legal services provider and a local bar association to help with "client" and attorney recruitment. The workgroup decided to refer to website "clients" as visitors. After considering several Michigan legal service providers, Legal Services of Eastern Michigan (LSEM) was identified as a potential pilot project partner. Throughout the pilot project, data will be collected to help the workgroup make a decision on future expansion of the project.

Second Meeting Cont'd.
LSEM accepted the workgroup's invitation to participate as a pilot project partner. The workgroup also submitted a formal proposal to the Genesee County Bar Association (GCBA) requesting that it also partner with the State Bar to bring the MI Free Legal Answers to Genesee County, which was approved by the GCBA's Executive Committee. For the Michigan pilot project, the workgroup developed a detailed information packet on various aspects of the pilot project (attached). The information packet will also help guide the possible possible expansion of the pilot project service area.

Third Meeting Cont'd.
To help ensure that visitors and attorneys have positive and worthwhile experiences on the MI Free Legal Answers website, the workgroup proposed a mandatory Michigan specific training for participating pro bono attorneys. An attorney member of State Bar staff will serve as the State Administrator. At the direction of the State Administrator, support staff will assist in the day-to-day administration and oversight of the program. The workgroup proposed an initial site launch in early 2017, with initial outreach being targeted to attorneys only. Once a threshold number of attorneys are recruited, the site will open for visitors to post their questions.

Fourth Meeting Cont'd.
The workgroup reviewed the information packet and the attorney training webinar and approved the materials and the roll-out of the Genesee County Pilot Project. Currently, the MI Free Legal Answers is open and accepting pro bono attorney registrations. Staff anticipates opening the site for visitor questions in a couple weeks.

MI Free Legal Answers

The high ethical standards of the legal profession should not be diminished simply because a visitor does not have the financial resources to pay for his own counsel. Pro bono visitors should have access to quality legal care, and this website provides one method for accessing that care.

The purpose of this document is to enable a discussion of the MI Free Legal Answers Genesee County Pilot, make determinations on website documentation, and provide guideposts for that discussion.

How it Works

Visitors will go to a website (https://mi.freelegalanswers.org) to register for an account, then log in to a secure portal where, after income and geographic verification¹, the visitors will have the opportunity to select from a number of legal topic areas and ask their question.

Visitors will be limited to 3 legal questions per year, with only one legal question per “legal area.” After posting their question(s), the visitors will log out of the website. When a volunteer lawyer answers their question, or asks for follow-up information, the visitor will receive an email letting them know a lawyer has responded, and that they need to log into the website to see the response.

No confidential information is sent via e-mail, all lawyer-visitor communications occur within the secure portal.

Lawyers will go to the same website, and will select the “Volunteer Attorney Registration” option. The website will collect the lawyer’s registration information, including P Number and contact information. This information is forwarded to the State administrator (SBM Staff), who will verify that the lawyer is a member in good standing and authorized to practice in Michigan.

Once their registration is approved, and after watching a short training video, lawyers will be able to log in to the secure portal where they will see their dashboard. Here, lawyers will have the opportunity to review all available questions, and will be able to sort by legal topic. Lawyers can click a “Preview” button next to each question to view more information about the question, including any deadlines. Only once a lawyer has selected the question are they able to see the visitor’s name and the full question. After reviewing the available questions, participating lawyers will move the question they wish to answer to their personal queue, which will remove it from the public queue. They will then be able to ask for more information, do necessary research, and answer the question. If the lawyer at any time discovers they are unable to answer the question, or becomes aware of a conflict or other issue, they can remove the visitor question from their queue, at which time it goes back into the public queue for a different lawyer to select and respond. Once a lawyer has determined the question has been answered, and that the visitor understands the response, they will close the question. On subsequent visits, lawyers will see their dashboard, which shows the questions that have been added to their personal queue (a maximum of five questions at any one time), a list of answered questions as well as the list of all available visitor questions. There are also links across the top of the secure portal which contain training resources, answered question history, FAQ (Frequently asked questions), and others.

No confidential information is sent via e-mail, all lawyer-visitor communications occur within the secure portal.

Administrator will have access to all account information, questions, and answers for visitors and lawyers. This is not unlike the way a law firm partner would have access to the files of their associate lawyers, or the way a tech systems administrator would have access to all electronically stored information at a law firm. The national administrator\(^2\) also has this level of access for all participating states (including Michigan).

To ensure that visitors are protected from bad information, the state administrator must manually approve every lawyer applicant, after verifying that the lawyer is a registered member of the bar, is currently in good standing, and otherwise authorized to practice law in the State of Michigan. The administrator will need to regularly verify that all volunteer lawyers continue to maintain good standing, this process should be done on a weekly basis, as suspensions or other admonishments come down from the ADB. Additionally, the Michigan administrator will review the first three responses of every lawyer, and periodically check a random selection of all responses.

Additionally, the Michigan administrator will review the first three responses of every lawyer, and periodically review a random selection of all questions and responses. This is to monitor questions and answers for misuse, abuse, and/or inaccurate legal information.

Genesee County Pilot Project
Thresholds and Metrics to Evaluate the Pilot Project

Thresholds for Stages of the Roll-Out

- Threshold number of volunteer attorneys that have registered and successfully completed the training webinar before the site will allow visitors to register and post legal questions = ~30
- Once the site allows visitors to register and post questions, promotion to visitors during the first week will be limited primarily to pilot project partners making direct referrals to the website. The one-week “testing” period will enable staff to monitor and make sure the site is working properly.
- Estimated number of volunteer attorneys needed for ongoing support of the site, post roll-out = ~40+ (This number of attorneys is based on the eligible population in Genesee County compared to the eligible population in Tennessee and the number of attorneys needed for successful ongoing administration of that program.)
- State Administrator will monitor website interactions to ensure that visitors are receiving timely and appropriate answers to their questions, are allowed follow-up questions when appropriate, and are referred to another resource when necessary.

Metrics to Monitor, Record, and Analyze (~Six month period post website roll-out)

- Number of visitors successfully registering for the site
- Number of visitor questions submitted
- Number of visitors questions answered
- Average income of visitors
- Visitor evaluation survey responses (Surveys sent by the ABA)
- Volunteer attorney evaluation survey (SBM generated survey)
  - Initial attorney survey at time of registration, after viewing the training webinar
    - Have you provided pro bono service in the past
    - Have you accepted pro bono cases from LSEM
    - Are you interested in receiving information about other pro bono opportunities at LSEM.
  - Monthly survey to attorneys that have answered a question in the previous month
- New site volunteer attorneys interacting with LSEM staff (LSEM feedback and initial attorney survey)
- Visitors that are provided information about the GCBA Lawyer Referral Service
- Questions reviewed by the State Administrator that required corrective action

Who is the administrator?

The Michigan state administrator is Robert Mathis, Pro Bono Service & Justice Initiatives Counsel at the State Bar of Michigan. Contact Robert by email at freelegalanswers@mail.michbar.org or by phone at 517-346-6396 with questions about using the site.

How does MI Free Legal Answers work?

MI Free Legal Answers is based on the walk-in clinic or dial-a-lawyer model where visitors request brief advice and counsel about a specific civil legal issue from a volunteer lawyer. Lawyers provide information and basic legal advice without any expectation of long-term representation. MI Free Legal Answers does not allow lawyers to provide advice in criminal matters.

Eligible, income-qualified visitors (see Eligibility below) sign the Use Agreement, create an account, and post a legal question. Visitors select a category (such as “housing” or “debt”) that best describes their question, and provide relevant facts about their legal issue, including photos or documents. The lawyer may ask for additional information before responding to the visitor’s request. Only a visitor’s name and county will be shared with the lawyer, but no personal information about the lawyer will be shared. If a question is not answered within 30 days, the state administrator will tell the visitor their question was not answered, and provide a list of other resources where the visitor can seek help.

Volunteer lawyers must create an account, provide their contact information and P-number, sign the Use Agreement for Lawyers, and watch a short (less than 10 minute) training video. Before the lawyer’s account is activated, the state administrator (State Bar of Michigan Staff) will verify the lawyer is a licensed member in good standing with the State Bar of Michigan. Once approved by the state administrator, the lawyer will receive an e-mail notification that the account is fully activated, and the lawyer can begin answering visitor questions.

Lawyers can log in at any time, from any location, to review the list of visitor questions, filter by legal topic area, and select the one(s) they want to answer. A lawyer will have the opportunity to read the full question before deciding to take it from the list and provide an answer. Once a lawyer takes a question from the list, the lawyer has 3 days to provide a response. Lawyers will be allowed to ask follow-up questions, or request additional information as needed to be sure the visitor’s question is answered. The lawyer’s identity is not revealed to the visitor.

Once a lawyer answers a question, the visitor can either accept the answer or send a follow up question to the lawyer. The lawyer should allow time for the visitor to send a follow-up question, before closing the question. The conversation can continue as long as necessary to fully answer the visitor’s question. Once the lawyer feels the question is fully answered, they may “close” the question and end the conversation. Once a conversation is closed, it cannot be reopened.

Visitors may only ask 3 questions per year, so please do not close a question until it is fully answered. Please also remember that the visitor may need help beyond your legal advice, so whenever appropriate, refer the visitor to self-help resources that can help them fully address their legal problem.

Lawyers will be able to view a log of questions they have answered.

Who is eligible to use Mi.freelegalanswers.org?

Eligibility is limited to the following:

- People with household income less than 200% of the federal poverty level
- People with less than $5,000 in liquid assets (including checking and savings account balances, as well as the value of any stocks or bonds)
- People who are not currently incarcerated
- Residents of Genesee County
- Only 3 questions per year, and only one question per legal topic

What kinds of lawyers should participate?

All Michigan-licensed lawyers are welcome! While there are certain types of legal questions that regularly come up at legal clinics, we need lawyers with different areas of expertise and practice to volunteer. We hope the website will appeal to lawyers who want to give back but have been unable to participate in traditional pro bono work due to family obligations, schedule constraints, or geographic location. We also hope to engage lawyers who already provide pro bono and are willing to give more of their time to those who need it.

What happens if I cannot answer a visitor’s question?

You may be unable to answer a visitor’s question for a number of reasons. There might be a conflict of interest, or the visitor fails to respond to your questions, or the question falls outside your area of expertise. If you cannot answer a question, place the question back into the queue so that another volunteer lawyer may answer it. If you take a question and do not respond within 3 days, the question will automatically return to open questions queue. However, questions unanswered within 30 days will be closed by the state administrator, so please do not hold on to questions that you cannot answer.

What type of relationship exists between me and the visitors of MI Free Legal Answers?

When a visitor submits a question and a lawyer provides an answer, a lawyer/client relationship is formed between that visitor and lawyer. This lawyer/client relationship is limited to providing an answer to the legal question within the MI Free Legal Answers website, and will not involve any continuing representation.
The lawyer will provide short-term, limited legal services to the visitor without expectation by either the lawyer or the visitor that the lawyer will provide continuing representation in the matter. Both the eligible visitors and lawyers consent to the limited nature of this relationship when they accept the terms of the use agreement and create an account. Eligible visitors and lawyers who do not accept the terms of the use agreement will not be allowed access to the site.

How do lawyers check for conflicts of interest?

Due to the pro bono, limited-scope representation provided through the MI Free Legal Answers website, the conflict of interest exception provided for in MRPC 6.6 applies. A lawyer may not answer a question if they know that doing so will create a conflict of interest.

What about professional liability insurance coverage?

Malpractice insurance coverage is provided at no cost to the lawyer by the American Bar Association, limited to liability for those claims made against you in relation to the legal guidance you provided on MI Free Legal Answers. If you receive notice of a claim, you must provide the ABA national administrator written notice of the claim, with full details including the date received, the claimant’s name and address (if known), the dates of the communications on ABA Free Legal Answers, and the alleged wrongful act as soon as practicable, but in no event later than thirty (30) days after the claim is first made.

How does MI Free Legal Answers ensure confidentiality?

This site is designed to ensure visitor privacy. The web program is administered via the internet through a secure platform that limits access, and only the lawyer, visitor, and website administration have access to the conversation between a visitor and a lawyer. Information available to the website administrator and the lawyer responding to a visitor request shall remain confidential, subject to the limitations of the Privacy/Confidentiality Policy included in the User and lawyer use agreement. However, visitor requests for information and the response of the lawyers participating in MI Free Legal Answers may be maintained in a database for review by administration, to assess the effectiveness of the project. Steps will be taken to maintain the security of this database and it will only be utilized by the administrator, but an absolute guarantee of security is not possible when using the internet and internet-based systems.

Aggregate information is collected on the pages visitors access or visit on this website.

The information collected is used to improve the content MI Free Legal Answers and is not shared with other organizations for commercial purposes. Information may be disclosed when legally required at the request of government authorities conducting an investigation, to verify or enforce compliance with the policies governing our website and applicable laws, or to protect against misuses or unauthorized use of our website.

Navigating the Website and Selecting Questions to Answer
When your account has been approved, you will receive a notification email. To get started, go to mi.freelegalanswers.org and select “Sign In” at the top right side of your screen. After you enter your username (which is your email address) and password, you will be directed to a page that lists all the questions that have been posted for lawyers to answer.

You will notice that the questions are coded by flags. These flags let you know how long each question has been in the queue. Questions with red-outline flags are those that have been in the queue for more than 10 days and questions with filled-in red flags are questions that have been in the queue for at least 25 days and will soon be closed. Questions that are not answered within 30 days will be closed and the visitor will be notified.

There are four ways to view questions in the queue:

1. You can view a list of all the questions in the queue; this is the default view.
2. You can view a list of questions that have been in the queue for 25 days or longer by clicking on the “Importance” option under the "Sort" button.
3. You can view questions by legal categories by clicking on the “Filter” button.
4. You can easily view any question you have taken to answer by clicking "Home" on the menu and looking at questions in your personal queue.

The visitor is asked to use the Subject line to tell you, in their own words, what the question is about (eviction, divorce, bankruptcy, etc.). The Category and Subject functions are tools to help lawyers quickly decide which questions they would like to review and answer.

Selecting Questions You Want to Answer

You can read the first few lines of each posted question by clicking the "Preview" button. If you decide you want to see more of the question, click the subject to be taken to the question detail page. When you have found a question you’d like to answer, click the “I want to answer this question” button on the bottom of the question detail page. If you decide you do not want to answer a question you have selected, click the "I want to return this question" to send it back to the queue. You can also decide if you want to answer a question immediately by clicking "Answer Now" or answer the question later by clicking "Answer Later". Please respond within 3 days of taking a question. If you fail to respond within 3 days, the question will be moved back into the queue.

Once you have taken the question, you will be able to reply to the visitor and provide an answer or ask follow up questions. The visitor will not know your identity unless you choose to provide it. If you ask the visitor a question, you will receive an email when the visitor responds and a prompt to log back into the website to respond.

How Do I Subscribe to a Category?
If your area of practice is specialized and you only want to answer certain types of questions, you can subscribe to a Category and receive an email notification each time a question in that particular Category is posted.

To subscribe to a Category (for example, immigration), click on the “Manage Subscriptions” tab at the top of the screen. Scroll down to the Category you are interested in and click on the red circle. When the red circle changes to a check mark, you have successfully subscribed to that category. You may also choose where you want to get subscription emails. To change it from your username email, click on your email address next to the green check and enter your different email address. Click the save icon to save your email address. You can unsubscribe at any time.

How do I keep track of hours?

Each time you attempt to log out of the website, you will be prompted to enter the time you have spent researching and answering questions. You may log your time in tenth of an hour increments. You may view your hours at any time by clicking on “Log My Hours” from the menu.

How do I contact the administrator with a question?

If you have a question or run into a technical problem with the site, you may contact the administrator by freelegalanswers@mail.michbar.org or calling 517-346-6396.

What Training is required?

To be eligible for the site, volunteer lawyers must watch a short (less than 10 minutes) training video, or participate in an on-site or virtual training.

What supervision or assistance is offered?

The Michigan state administrator will periodically review answers for training and quality assurance purposes. The first three questions answered by lawyers new to the program will be reviewed by the state administrator. Use Agreement for Lawyers

ABA Free Legal Answers is a website operated by the American Bar Association (ABA) and by an entity or entities in the state where the client lives. The purpose of the website is to increase access to advice and information about non-criminal legal matters to those who cannot afford it. There is no fee for the use of the system or for the advice and information provided by the lawyer.

Who Can Use ABA Free Legal Answers

Eligibility for use of ABA Free Legal Answers is limited to the following:

- The user must have household income less than 250% of the federal poverty level (with exceptions for certain states as requested by that state);
- The user may not have liquid assets exceeding $5,000 in value (this includes your checking and savings account balances, as well as the value of any stocks or bonds);
- The user may not be incarcerated;
- The user may not request assistance with criminal law matters.

Before users are allowed to request legal advice, they will be asked questions to establish eligibility.

Users agree to answer those questions truthfully.

The information that users provide to these questions are confidential. Answers not associated with the client’s name will be collected for data sharing. Attorneys will only see information associated with their client's legal issue.

Users must provide their name, state and county in order to ask for advice.

If a user is not eligible to use the system, the user will be denied access to it and provided with some alternate resources for help.

What Happens When Clients Use ABA Free Legal Answers

After eligibility is established, the user will create a secured account.

The user will post a request for legal advice/information and provide facts that will help the lawyer answer the question. Users will be able to go back to their posted question to add information. The lawyer may ask for additional information before responding to the user's request. The user will have a choice to respond to that request or not.

Lawyers must be licensed and in good standing in the state for which they have registered with ABA Free Legal Answers and must be authorized to give pro bono advice/information. Attorneys eligible under that criteria will be authorized to use the system and to respond to user's requests. Lawyers will only answer questions they choose to answer. If no lawyer responds to a request after 30+ days, the request will be removed and an administrator will notify the user. If a lawyer responds to a user's question, the user will see the written response through the website.

Users will not know the name of the lawyer who answers their questions unless the lawyer chooses to provide it or it is required by a court of law. The lawyer must answer according to the law of the state in which he/she is licensed and caution the client if that state's law might not apply.

The lawyer will not take any action to help the user except to respond to the request for advice and information that is posted on the website.

Lawyer/Client Relationship

There is no lawyer/client relationship between the client and the administrator of this website (ABA). In the event a client submits a question and receives an answer from a lawyer, there will be a lawyer/client relationship formed between that client and the lawyer who responds. That relationship, however, will be limited in scope and duration as described in this agreement. The representation will be limited to providing an answer to the legal question and will not involve any continuing representation of the client beyond the act of providing such an answer. The lawyer will provide short-term, limited legal services to a client (the eligible user of this site) without expectation by either the lawyer or the client (the eligible user of this site) that the lawyer will provide continuing representation in the matter.

By accepting the terms of this use agreement, you consent to the limited nature of this relationship both as to scope and duration, given the client’s level of competency and the complexity of the question asked.

Conflicts

Under the ethics rules adopted in most jurisdictions, many of which include a rule patterned after ABA Model Rule of Professional Conduct 6.5, because of the pro bono publico nature of the limited scope representation provided through ABA Free Legal Answers, the general rules for lawyers as to conflicts of interest do not apply to lawyers’ participation in ABA Free Legal Answers. Instead, the only conflicts of interest that would preclude a lawyer from answering a question for an eligible user of ABA Free Legal Answers are conflicts of interest that the lawyer actually knows of at the time that they receive or answer a client's question. This means that the possibility exists, and the clients agree that they understand, that a lawyer who answers a question, or another lawyer with whom they practice in a firm, may actually be representing other parties with an interest in the question. The names of the client and anyone adverse to the client concerning the subject matter of the question will be provided to the lawyer so that the lawyer can make sure not to answer the question if the lawyer knows that he would have a conflict of interest. If based on the information the client provides, whether client name or any details of the question, the lawyer actually knows of a conflict of interest precluding him from answering, the question will be referred to another volunteer lawyer. Depending on the state in which the lawyer is licensed, the lawyer may be required to perform a conflicts check.
Privacy Policy/Confidentiality Statement

ABA Free Legal Answers is designed to insure client privacy. Information available to the ABA and the lawyer responding to a client request shall remain confidential, subject to the limitations of this Privacy/Confidentiality Policy and unless the lawyer must reveal the information to prevent bodily harm, to prevent the client from committing a crime or to establish a defense in a controversy with the client. However, client requests for information and the response of the lawyers participating in ABA Legal Answers may be maintained in a database for review in order to measure the effectiveness of the project. Steps will be taken to maintain the security of this database and it will only be utilized by the ABA, but an absolute guarantee of security is not possible when using the internet and internet based systems. Information collected on this website may be destroyed after three years.

For each visitor to the site the web server automatically recognizes only the consumer domain name. This is the information that is collected for statistical purposes.

Aggregate information is collected on what pages are accessed or visited by consumers.

The information collected is used to improve the content of the Web page and is not shared with other organizations for commercial purposes. Information may be disclosed when legally required at the request of government authorities conducting an investigation, to verify or enforce compliance with the policies governing our website and applicable laws or to protect against misuses or unauthorized use of our website.

With respect to Ad Servers: There is no partnership or special relationship with any ad server company.

Accepting Pro Bono Cases

If a lawyer chooses to communicate with a client outside of the ABA Free Legal Answers website for the purposes of taking the client’s case on a pro bono basis, lawyers are asked to contact their state and/or national administrator. The ABA does not provide malpractice insurance for your services beyond the legal guidance you provide on the ABA Free Legal Answers website. The lawyer may contact his/her state administrator to find out whether malpractice insurance is available to cover additional pro bono representation of the client and any applicable reporting requirements. We would like to keep track of the number of pro bono cases that are generated from the website so please let your state and/or national administrator know if you do decide to continue pro bono representation of your client.

If a lawyer decides to communicate outside of the ABA Free Legal Answers website and provide pro bono representation or services, the lawyer/client relationship formed on-line is ended. A new lawyer/client relationship is started when the lawyer communicates outside or provides pro bono services outside of ABA Free Legal Answers. The ABA is not liable for any communication services provided outside of the website.

Lawyers Professional Liability Policy

Malpractice insurance coverage is limited to liability for only those claims that are made against you in relation to the legal guidance you provided on ABA Free Legal Answers. If you receive notice of a claim, you must provide the ABA national administrator written notice of the claim, with full details including the date received, the claimant’s name and address (if known), the dates of the communications on ABA Free Legal Answers, and the alleged wrongful act as soon as practicable, but in no event later than thirty (30) days after the claim is first made.

The lawyer has reviewed the rules of professional conduct of his or her jurisdiction and believes that participation in this program is consistent with those rules. See, e.g., ABA Model Rules of Professional Responsibility

The lawyer has adhered to any and all additional requirements by their state administrator for registration with this site.

This Use Agreement for Lawyers is subject to amendment or modification at any time. Any such amendment or modification will be accompanied by written notification to all registered lawyers of this site.

Agreement

By clicking the “I Agree” button you agree:

- I have read the Use Agreement for Lawyers and I understand the terms of the Use Agreement.
- The information that I will provide is true and correct.
- If I do not agree to the Use Agreement for Lawyers, I will not be able to use the system.
What you need to know to use ABA Free Legal Answers

You can use this website IF all of these are true for you:

- Your income is low for a family the size of yours.
- The value of your checking account, savings account, stocks or bonds are low.
- You aren't in jail or prison.
- Your legal problem isn't related to a criminal charge.
- You don’t already have a lawyer to help you with your legal problem.
- You are an adult.

We will ask questions to make sure you meet these rules. You must tell the truth. If you don't meet these rules you can't use this website. If you can’t use the website, we will let you know of other places where you might get help.

What We Offer

By using this website, you are asking a lawyer to give you legal help on your specific legal questions. They will be your lawyer for this limited purpose and will not do anything for you other than provide this help. The lawyer will answer your questions through the website and does not have to separately email you an answer or have a phone call or meeting to answer your questions. When the lawyer is finished answering your question, the lawyer will no longer be your lawyer. If you have a court date or you need to file something with the court by a specific date, a lawyer may not answer your question in time. You should keep looking for a lawyer while you wait to see if a lawyer will answer your question. Unfortunately, not all questions posted to the site will receive an answer. If an attorney cannot assist you, an administrator will notify you.

You can use the website to ask 3 different legal questions each calendar year. You can’t create a new account to ask additional questions. You must meet our rules every time you use the website.

About The Lawyers

The lawyer who answers you is helping you for free. The lawyer will only write about the problem you put on the website. The lawyer will not help you after that or do anything else for you. The lawyer will not:

- make calls or file papers for you;
- go to meetings for you
- go to court for you.

If you use this website, it means you understand this. The lawyer who answers you can practice law in the state where you live. The lawyer will help you understand your state’s laws only and laws may be different in other states. The people who run this website do not provide the legal advice. They are not responsible for the advice the volunteer lawyer gives you through this website.

Rules Lawyers Must Go By
Lawyers can't knowingly help both sides of a legal issue or a case. For example, they can help either a renter or the renter's landlord in a dispute. But they can't help both of them on opposite sides of the same dispute. The lawyer or the law firm or office they work for may be helping the other side in your case and the lawyer answering your question may not know it. If the lawyer or office does know that they are helping the other side of your dispute, they can't answer your question. Using this website means you understand that the lawyer may be part of a firm or office where another lawyer in their workplace is helping the other side.

We do our best to keep what you say secret

We will do our best to keep what you put on this website secret. You should know the law could require us to report what you say on this website. For example, if you say you are going to hurt yourself or someone else, or you say that you or someone you know is abusing a child, the law may require us to tell someone. For a limited time, we keep records of:

- What kind of legal problem you had.
- What the lawyer told you.
- Which county you live in.
- Where you went on our website.
- All other information you give us.

We keep this information to help us make our website better. We will not sell it. We won't share it with people in a dispute with you unless a judge orders us to do so or you ask us to do so to help resolve a concern about the lawyer helping you. Also, there are people who help us run our website and legal aid organizations that support the website who may see your question and the lawyer's answer. These people help our lawyers make sure they do a good job trying to answer your questions. Also, all volunteer lawyers for this website can see the questions that you type into the website but will not share them unless a judge orders them to do so. You agree that this is alright with you.

- You read this, understand and agree to the above rules.
- You agree to tell the truth and give all the information you know about your legal problem.
- You agree to post only three separate legal questions in any calendar year.
- You will not create a new account to ask additional questions.

If you don't agree, you can't use this website.
Frequently Asked Questions from Site Users:

Why is my question closed?

Questions can be closed if:

1. The attorney who answered your question closed it because they had nothing else to say;
2. The state administrator closed the question and said why it was closed;
3. You did not respond to the attorney's answer within 5 days, so it was automatically closed.

Please remember, you cannot ask a more than 1 question per legal area, so if a question is closed, please do not re-post it to the general queue or it will be closed by the state administrator.

I have asked 3 questions and can’t ask any more. What can I do now?

You may only ask three (3) questions per year. Look at our list of other places to find help for more resources.

How can I get help using this site?

Email the state administrator with questions about using the site. The state administrator cannot answer legal questions.

State Bar of Michigan | PRO BONO INITIATIVE

MAKE A DIFFERENCE WHEREVER YOU ARE
Nearly 3.4 million individuals in Michigan are eligible to receive pro bono legal assistance. While legal aid organizations serve many, statewide data show that for every person helped, another is turned away due to lack of resources.

Not every legal need requires full representation, and many people can be helped by having a lawyer answer their legal questions.

THAT’S WHERE YOU COME IN
The State Bar of Michigan and the ABA have partnered on a new web-based pro bono project—volunteer attorneys answer online legal questions. All you need is an Internet connection and some time to share your legal expertise.

Resources provided by the State Bar of Michigan in support of committee work:

The State Bar provides staff support for the work of the Committee through one staff counsel and the Client Protection Fund Paralegal. The State Bar also provides meeting facilities, food and beverage for meetings, teleconferencing services, meeting materials, dropbox, and other resources as needed to support the work of the Committee.
Committee Activities:

The committee has discussed avenues for implementation of payee notification, researched support and opposition in other jurisdictions, identified supporters and opposition in Michigan, researched the impact of payee notification in other jurisdictions, is determining the potential impact of payee notification in Michigan, and created an initial draft of a proposal to the Representative Assembly.
Future Goals and Activities:

The committee members will develop a plan to submit a resolution to the Representative Assembly at its meeting in September, 2017.

If the Representative Assembly passes the resolution to allow the State Bar of Michigan to support proposing legislation to enact payee notification in Michigan, the committee will work with Director of Government Relations to lobby Michigan congresspersons.
Payee notification could have prevented millions of dollars in losses resulting from attorneys stealing from their clients. Recommended by the American Bar Association Center for Professional Responsibility, payee notification is a loss prevention program, wherein payees are notified when an insurance company delivers settlement proceeds to the lawyer of record in payment of a liability claim. Payee notification serves both the preventive and maintenance purposes of a client protection program by improving transparency and accountability when an insurer remits a check to resolve a liability claim.

State Bar of Michigan Strategic Planning Report
March–December 2016

Overview

The State Bar of Michigan (SBM) has developed a national reputation as a leader and innovator. While tending to its core mission, the SBM institutionalized a culture of inquiry that has enabled the bar to recognize and address emerging challenges facing the profession and the justice system.

The 2003 strategic plan played an important role in the bar’s evolution. In addition to establishing organizational priorities, the plan spoke directly to organizational culture. It highlighted values that guide the way business is conducted by staff and by the bar’s elected leadership. The plan’s implementation required individual bar leaders to think beyond their own terms in order to address problems of magnitude. That evolution has enabled the bar to lead important conversations such as those undertaken by the Judicial Crossroads Task Force in 2009-2010 and the 21st Century Practice Task Force over the last two years.

It was a priority for the bar, then, to preserve the components of the 2003 plan that still have efficacy and meaning. The planning process was one that wove those existing threads with new ideas raised by the 21st Century Practice Task Force and also gave voice to other member interests and concerns. The resulting fabric reflects a diverse range of voices from the SBM community.

Components of the Report

The strategic planning report consists of three parts: 1) the narrative summary of the planning process (this document); 2) a plan overview that includes the SBM purpose, statement of values, goals and strategies; and 3) the appendices that include notes from the June, August and December sessions and the SBM member survey results.

Information Gathering and Preparation

A Strategic Planning Group that included Lori Buiteweg (chair), Dennis Barnes, Danielle Brown, Rob Buchanan, Jennifer Grieco, James Heath, Lawrence Nolan, Dan Quick, Donald Rockwell and Dana Warnez met in the fall of 2015. Jennifer Lewin, the consultant from the ABA Division for Bar Services, was invited to assist the group in January 2016.

During preliminary conversations with the SBM staff in March 2016, it was determined that much of the background research and stakeholder outreach that is typical of a planning process had already been conducted in the context of the 21st Century Task Force’s work. Direct feedback from members about existing and potential services had not been gathered, however, and it was determined that a membership survey would provide helpful feedback that would further ground the planning group’s discussions.

The membership survey was conducted by the State Bar of Michigan staff in April and May 2016. Preliminary results were provided to the planning group in time for its first meeting on June 6. Final results were available for the discussion on August 30. The survey results are included in the appendices.

The June 6 Session

The first meeting of the planning group with the ABA consultant was held on June 6, 2016. The purpose of the four-hour session was to discuss expectations for the plan, discuss national trends among bar associations, explore how the SBM membership survey results supported or diverged from those trends, and identify the broad areas upon which the next strategic plan would focus.

According to Strategic Planning Committee members, the 2017-2020 plan and process should include:

- A framework that provides consensus about the way forward
- Metrics that help the Board of Commissioners evaluate the success of individual programs and efforts
- In addition to priorities, an identification of what not to do, and where to shift resources to appropriately support new efforts
- More specificity about what the SBM wants to achieve
- More board involvement in ongoing implementation and monitoring

That discussion was followed by a discussion of national mandatory bar trends and the specifics of the SBM 2016 Membership Survey results. Discussion highlights included:

- Increasing member expectations about value
- The challenging climate for mandatory bars
- The access to justice crisis driving major innovation and collaboration
- Economic shifts in supply and demand for legal services
- Overarching justice system challenges compromising community confidence
- The continuing challenges for new admittees
- The increase in challenges related to the graying of the profession
- Needing to balance the many different modes of member affiliation and communication
- The efficacy of traditional governance structures in the current environment

Finally, after a review of the previous plan, the group identified the following four areas of priority for the 2017 plan:

1. Member success and satisfaction
2. Educating and assisting the public
3. Maintaining the highest ethical standards in the profession and advocating for improvements in the justice system
4. Nimble and responsive infrastructure
The August 30 Session

In advance of the August session, the Strategic Planning Committee received: 1) a final report of the SBM membership survey results, 2) an overview of the SBM finances that provided a snapshot of the bar’s current funding priorities, 3) results from a brief survey of senior staff regarding bar priorities, 4) highlights from the consultant’s conversation with Lynn Chard, Executive Director of ICLE, regarding ICLE’s and the SBM’s future, and 5) a draft matrix that incorporated the priority areas identified at the June session, along with strategies from the 21st Century Practice Task Force report.

After discussing the background resources, the group spent the majority of the session refining the goal and strategy language. A brief final discussion addressed possible measures of success, and people and entities that should be involved in the strategy development.

Additional notes from the session can be found in part 3 of this report.

The December 2 Session

Prior to the final meeting of the Strategic Planning Committee, the SBM senior management met to further develop the framework that was created in August. The staff identified the current programs and activities that support each strategy; suggested areas that could be augmented, transformed or downgraded; and compiled the new ideas or activities that would support the strategies moving forward. At the session, small groups of planning committee members had an opportunity to discuss the goals in more detail and offer additional suggestions and approaches. These suggestions have been captured either in the working grid or in the notes from the session in part 3 of this report.

The goals were refined as follows:

Goal 1: The State Bar of Michigan provides resources to help all of its members achieve professional excellence and success in the practice of law.

Goal 2: The State Bar of Michigan champions access to justice, and builds public trust and confidence in the justice system in Michigan.

Goal 3: The State Bar of Michigan maintains the highest conduct among its members, and initiates and advocates for improvements that facilitate accessible, timely justice.

Goal 4: The State Bar of Michigan structures itself to achieve its strategic goals in a responsive and cost-efficient manner.
Other particularly notable components of this plan include:

1. A statement of values. During the review of the framework in November, the staff identified the need to capture the values that had been integrated in the previous plan. At the December session, the planning group agreed that a statement of values should accompany the strategic framework. That statement was developed by a small group of planning committee members in December.

2. The fundamental importance of collaboration and partnerships. The group recognized the need to diligently ask, What can the SBM uniquely do? What can others do better than we can, and how can we support their efforts?

3. The way value is delivered will continue to shift and the bar must remain responsive. Whether it is delivering education and knowledge to members or assistance to the public, delivery mechanisms are evolving. Finding the right mechanisms for important bar functions is a continuing strategic priority throughout the plan.

4. The commitment to developing outcome metrics that will better establish how well programs and initiatives are addressing the challenges for which they were created. This is a significant cultural shift. Institutionalizing this way of working will require commitment from both the staff and the board.

Next Steps

The State Bar of Michigan Board of Commissioners will receive the strategic framework and have an opportunity to discuss it at its January meeting. The framework that is adopted will then be operationalized by the SBM staff. That operational plan will include recommendations regarding entities that should be responsible for advancing the action items as well as the implementation timeline.

The Strategic Planning Committee recommends that the board subcommittees be restructured to accommodate the components of the new plan, and that the subcommittees have a role in monitoring the implementation process.

Additional Recommendations Regarding Implementation

1. When delegating to existing groups, clearly communicate expectation regarding:
   - Why the activity/program/service is important
   - Who the activity/program/service serves
   - How impact will be measured
   - How implementation will be monitored
   - What the timeframe is for the initial phase of the implementation plan
   - What resources are available for implementation, including staff, volunteer, and financial resources
2. Communicate and build plan support, including how existing activities support the goals and strategies. This is crucial given the importance of cultivating member awareness and engagement in this plan.

- Share the plan with staff and volunteer leadership throughout the organization
- Communicate the importance of committee and section work that supports the plan
- Communicate with membership about the plan. Because members participated through the surveys, it is important to let them know how their input informed the planning group’s choices about the future of the organization.
- Create a parallel staff operational plan and board governance plan. These plans should include milestones and target measures to evaluate success

3. Adjust and adapt as circumstances warrant.

Surely, modifications to the plan will be necessary. Circumstances change and external shifts in the environment occur—the political landscape changes, important partners experience transitions in leadership, a disruptive technology appears. This is to be expected; the plan should evolve. While discussion of the plan should take place at every board meeting, time should be set aside at least once a year for deeper reflection on the bar’s progress vis-à-vis the goals and benchmarks it has set. What did the bar accomplish? Are the initiatives the bar is undertaking helping it make progress toward its goals? Do the definitions of success continue to be realistic and meaningful?

4. Steady goes the race.

Effective strategic planning is a marathon that is run like a relay race. It is a group effort, and oftentimes the finish line is not in sight. Success requires agreement on strategy, effective use of resources over time, and understanding the capacity of the runners on various parts of the course. By taking on too much at once, the bar can stretch itself too thin and do its members and other constituents a disservice. Be selective about where to place your efforts so that you are making the appropriate investment for success.

In Conclusion

Throughout this process, the SBM Strategic Planning Committee and SBM staff have thoughtfully explored the opportunities and challenges present in the current environment. This new roadmap for the future, coupled with the SBM’s openness and culture of exploration, will enable the organization to continue to serve the lawyers and citizenry of Michigan with efficacy and integrity.

Respectfully submitted,

Jennifer Lewin

Strategic Planning Discussion Notes
December 2, 2016, 9am – 4pm

Statement of Purpose Discussion
Proposal to incorporate explicit language relating to diversity in the statement of purpose
Final decision to keep wording as is, but incorporate diversity into values statement

Statement of Core Values Discussion
Collaborative effort to develop with staff, Dana and Jennifer

Highlights/Comments around Grid Overview

Overarching Strategies
- More deliberate about considering unique role of state bar and local bars and exploring opportunities for collaboration
- Strong role as convenor of stakeholders
- Micro and macro strategies – paying attention to how they work and thinking about why; measuring impact to know which strategies are most successful

Mentoring
- Observation regarding potential support for mandatory mentoring
- Work with other locals to facilitate mentoring programs – programs like mentor match hit all goal areas

Connection between Legal Hub – similar flow from ICLE to mentors?
- Take advantage of speakers' willingness to volunteer

More on-demand information on the website

How do we expand the conversation about diversity beyond the core group of committed?

Current tech supports status quo, but the future less well Structure

- What’s the role of the board? Can it be more powerful and helpful?
- What’s the board’s involvement in the strategic plan?
- We have two decision-making bodies – are they working in the way they were intended? More clarity about which questions go where

Thoughts on New Ideas/Opportunities to Augment Existing Programs and Services

Goal 1
1. Workgroup to look at 1) professional coaching, 2) pro bono mentor match opportunities; 3) mentor program
   - Could SBM Connect or other things we already have in place be used as a helpline?
2. Committee – Education/Events OR Programs/Services to review use of annual meeting/BLF
   - Idea: solicit local bar involvement, what’s drawing you to attend?
3. Ethics resources/search functionality – improvements in process
   - Catalog questions that get asked that there isn’t a clear answer to
   - Is there a way to connect professional standards committee activity to the board?
   - Suggested readings based on search – e.g., you might be interested in X; explore Casemaker options

Goal 2 – Focus of discussion was on communications

1. PSAs – should include diversity in all elements
   - Use section leaders to help spread message
   - Collaboration with other organizations
   - Targeted audiences
2. Reach out internally (judges’ associations; partners)
3. Find audiences who would be willing to come and talk – we listen
4. Outreach to other professions (medical, CPAs, etc.)
5. Programs and services could pull this together
6. Recommendation that committees/sections have social media chairs
7. Bolster ICLE partnership (condensed material that could be shared with the public)
8. Hands-on, practical tools about bias awareness
9. Possible partnership/exchange with small business association (what’s happening in your universe? What’s happening with ours?)
Goal 3

Additional partners – law schools, deans – should they be added? Judicial Council

Utility of an ethics app? Make use of existing SBM app? Research re what’s accessed most by phone
Improved search capability

Emphasis – looking at national and international trends

Goal 4

1. How can the SBM run most effectively?
   - Workgroup to assess
   - Reapportionment issue

2. BOC committees very focused on tasks, not broader picture
3. Independent tech audits for long-term viability; evaluate needs
   - Explore capacity of tech-savvy members to contribute to the discussion, as well

4. Communications

Budget is the strategic plan – that is the reality
Should BOC expand its involvement?
More meetings? Longer meetings?
Pre-budget assessment
Add communications to Program/Services group

Board Meeting January 20
Draft plan to committee two weeks prior (January 6)
Article VI § 6, Bylaws of the State Bar of Michigan
No later than May 1 of each year, the chair of each committee and sub entity of the Bar, with the assistance of the staff liaison, shall report to the Executive Director on a form provided by the State Bar on the activities and accomplishments of the committee or sub entity.

Unbundling System Work Group
Jurisdiction: Propose a package (e.g., guidelines, education, rules, forms, referral mechanisms and other components) to implement a comprehensive, effective limited scope representation/unbundling system in Michigan which promotes the following goals:
- identify specific policy and other action necessary to implement an effective system
- assist private and pro bono lawyers in best practices for unbundled practice
- educate lawyers, judges, court staff and the public regarding unbundling, including education for lawyers on successful unbundled practice business models
- address questions and concerns of lawyers, judges, court staff and the public
- propose an ethical, effective system for referrals to qualified unbundled lawyers
- assist access to civil legal services to the poor, modest means, middle income persons
- link unbundled systems to self-help resources (MLH) and SBM directory (Zeekbeek)
- increase public trust and confidence in the rule of law
- consider expansion to criminal and business matters in the future

Resources provided by the State Bar of Michigan in support of committee work:

Staff support, telephone meeting facilitation, document drafting, technical support, calendar management, and more.
Committee Activities:

The Unbundling System Work Group was appointed by then President Lori Buiteweg on June 20, 2016, immediately after the Justice Initiatives Summit on Unbundling. Chaired by Linda Rexer, the group formed five subgroups - rules, forms, education and community support, referrals, and evaluation. Each group met countless times between June 20 and August 10 when a work product representing some of the key elements of its work was submitted to the Representative Assembly. The August 10, 2016 memo to the Assembly is attached. That was reformatted by Assembly leaders and presented to the Assembly at its September 22, 2016 meeting. The Committee on Justice Initiatives submitted written comments to the Assembly, and CJI co-chairs Linda Rexer and Erika Davis joined work group member Ed Pappas in presenting the proposal to the Assembly. The proposal was adopted and transmitted to the Supreme Court on October 27, 2016. We anticipate that the Court will place the matter on an administrative agenda shortly, and hopefully no later than June of 2017.
Future Goals and Activities:

The work group will watch for the Court's administrative agenda and continue to strategize how best to move this important piece of innovations in the delivery of legal services forward.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Members of the Representative Assembly

FROM: The Committee on Justice Initiatives

RE: Proposed Rule Amendments to Support Limited Scope Representation (LSR)

DATE: August 10, 2016

You may recall that at the last Representative Assembly meeting, co-chairs of the 21st Century Practice Task Force presented information on the work of the Task Force and noted that many of the recommendations of the Task Force would require action by the Representative Assembly. Several recommendations called for the implementation of “unbundled” legal services, also known as limited scope representation.

Because of the number of rules that are involved, and in order to demonstrate how this practice would work in Michigan, the committee is asking for an enlargement of the number of pages submitted.

1. What the Representative Assembly is Being Asked to Do

The Assembly is being asked to approve amendments to seven (7) rules for submission to the Michigan Supreme Court to support limited scope representation in Michigan. The proposed rule amendments and brief explanations of rule changes appear in Section 3 below. The drafters of the amendments looked carefully at all rules that could affect a LSR practice; their proposals are presented as a package to be moved on for action by the Supreme Court. The proposed rule changes reach both the Michigan Court Rule and the Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct. The Rules are treated in order and affect:

- MCR 2.107 Service and Filing of Pleadings and Other Papers
- MCR 2.117 Appearances
- MCR 6.001 Scope; Applicability of Civil Rules, Superseded Rules and Statutes
- MRPC 1.0 Scope and Applicability of Rules and Commentary
- MRPC 1.2 Scope of Representation
- MRPC 4.2 Communication With a Person Represented by Counsel
- MRPC 4.3 Dealing With an Unrepresented Person

Background

The proposed rules follow the recommendations of the 21st Century Practice Task Force to establish an effective “unbundled” or LSR practice (first in civil matters, and then to explore LSR for criminal matters), are based on information and input received from many stakeholders at the June 20, 2016 Justice Initiatives Unbundling Summit, and are informed by the successful limited scope representation work in over 30 other states, and were drafted by an Unbundling Work Group appointed by State Bar President Lori Buiteweg. That work group was chaired by Linda K. Rexer and included Erika L. Davis, co-chairs of the CJI. CJI has ten members, nine supported the proposal and one was unavailable to provide input.

Information in Section 2 (Why is LSR important?) and Section 4 (Other components: education, referral systems, evaluation, forms) is not offered for action by the Representative Assembly. Rather it illustrates how a comprehensive high quality LSR system could operate successfully under the proposed rule amendments in Michigan. In its recommendation that a comprehensive LSR system be established in Michigan, the State Bar of Michigan’s 21st Century Practice Task Force contemplated these additional components beyond rule amendments: forms (attorney and court), educations (attorneys, courts, the public), referral and evaluation. All are necessary to assure adequate protection of clients and attorneys and to maximize successful results for all. The State Bar of Michigan would take the lead in developing actual modules in these areas like the outlines and samples provided for illustration here.

2. Why is LSR important?

In limited scope representation (LSR), which is also referred to as “unbundling,” attorneys provide only discrete legal services agreed upon in advance, rather than full representation. LSR often involves providing legal advice, coaching, and document preparation for parties proceeding pro se or as self-represented litigants (SRL). LSR attorneys may also mediate conflicts, negotiate settlements or make limited appearances in court on behalf of clients who otherwise represent themselves.

Since LSR requires a much lower level of attorney commitment than full-representation, it is less costly, putting legal assistance within the reach of many low and moderate income individuals. Clients benefit from legal representation in critical areas of a matter, attorneys benefit from having more paying clients, and courts benefit from increased efficiency due to an attorney’s expertise on an otherwise self-represented litigant’s case.

Without an LSR system, many persons who cannot afford to hire a lawyer and must represent themselves would have no access to legal help with parts of their case they cannot handle themselves. In Michigan and nationally, nonprofit civil legal aid programs turn away more than half of those who seek their assistance due to lack of resources to represent them. Michigan has also seen a rapid and remarkable increase in use of the nonprofit statewide self-help program, Michigan Legal Help on whose website over 200 sets of court forms are completed each day.

Self-represented litigants are the primary beneficiaries of high quality LSR programs which can to support ethical, accessible and effective legal services that increase access to justice for self-represented litigants. However, to achieve these goals, the LSR rules must consider the perspective of attorneys. If attorneys are not willing to offer the LSR services clients need most, neither pro se litigants nor the courts will benefit. Experience in other states has shown that it is only when rules and other resources provided assurances, protections and procedural guidance that significant numbers of private practice attorneys become willing to provide LSR.

While most jurisdictions simply started with the adoption of the model rule allowing LSR, a version of which now exists, in all 50 states over many years of practice it has become clear that additional rules and supports are essential to provide vital procedural guidance and protections for both attorneys and clients.

Some limited scope practices are already practiced in Michigan and selected non-litigation practices allowed under State Bar of Michigan Ethics Op.: RI-347 (April 23, 2010). However, Michigan is NOT among the over 30 states that have now gone beyond the model rule to provide additional rules and resources to provide increased clarity and encourage the practice. This guidance addresses issues such as obtaining consent and documenting the limited scope agreement, entering limited appearances and withdrawing by notice, whether and how document preparation assistance must be disclosed, who should get service in an LSR context, how to determine whether communication should be directed toward the self-represented litigant (SRL) or the LSR attorney, and the provision of orientation and practical resources for all stakeholders. In addition, supportive components have been developed in many states, including practice support, educational resources, referral mechanisms and integration with self-help resources help ensure that LSR programs are high quality and easily accessible. The national experience, and the supports and resources available, have also assuaged initial fears that malpractice coverage would not be available, would be too expensive, or that LSR would generate increased claims.

3. Proposed Rule Amendments

The proposed rule changes below reach both the Michigan Court Rule and the Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct. For clarity, the entire text of each rule is presented with the proposed added language in boldface and underlined and the proposed deleted language struck through. Italicized Notes provide insight from the drafters. I. Michigan Court Rules

Rule 2.107 Service and Filing of Pleadings and Other Papers

(A) Service; When Required.

(1) Unless otherwise stated in this rule, every party who has filed a pleading, an appearance, or a motion must be served with a copy of every paper later filed in the action. A nonparty who has filed a motion or appeared in response to a motion need only be served with papers that relate to that motion.

(2) Except as provided in MCR 2.603, after a default is entered against a party, further service of papers need not be made on that party unless he or she has filed an appearance or a written demand for service of papers. However, a pleading that states a new claim for relief against a party in default must be served in the manner provided by MCR 2.105.

(3) If an attorney appears on behalf of a person who has not received a copy of the complaint, a copy of the complaint must be delivered to the attorney on request.
(4) All papers filed on behalf of a defendant must be served on all other defendants not in default.

(B) Service on Attorney or Party.

1. Service required or permitted to be made on a party for whom an attorney has appeared in the action must be made on the attorney except as follows:
   (a) The original service of the summons and complaint must be made on the party as provided by MCR 2.105;
   (b) When a contempt proceeding for disobeying a court order is initiated, the notice or order must be personally delivered to the party, unless the court orders otherwise;
   (c) After a final judgment or final order has been entered and the time for an appeal of right has passed, papers must be served on the party unless the rule governing the particular postjudgment procedure specifically allows service on the attorney;
   (d) The court may order service on the party.

2. If an attorney files a Notice of Limited Appearance under MCR 2.117 on behalf of a self-represented party, service of every paper later filed in the action must continue to be made on the party, and must also be made on the limited scope attorney for the duration of the limited appearance. At the request of the limited scope attorney, and if circumstances warrant, the court may order service to be made only on the party.

3. If two or more attorneys represent the same party, service of papers on one of the attorneys is sufficient. An attorney who represents more than one party is entitled to service of only one copy of a paper.

4. If a party prosecutes or defends the action on his or her own behalf, service of papers must be made on the party in the manner provided by subrule (C).

(C) Manner of Service. Service of a copy of a paper on an attorney must be made by delivery or by mailing to the attorney at his or her last known business address or, if the attorney does not have a business address, then to his or her last known residence address. Service on a party must be made by delivery or by mailing to the party at the address stated in the party's pleadings.

1. Delivery to Attorney. Delivery of a copy to an attorney within this rule means
   (a) handing it to the attorney personally, or, if agreed to by the parties, e-mailing it to the attorney as allowed under MCR 2.107(C)(4);
   (b) leaving it at the attorney's office with the person in charge or, if no one is in charge or present, by leaving it in a conspicuous place; or
   (c) if the office is closed or the attorney has no office, by leaving it at the attorney's usual residence with some person of suitable age and discretion residing there.

2. Delivery to Party. Delivery of a copy to a party within this rule means
   (a) handing it to the party personally, or, if agreed to by the parties, e-mailing it to the party as allowed under MCR 2.107(C)(4); or
   (b) leaving it at the party's usual residence with some person of suitable age and discretion residing there.

3. Mailing. Mailing a copy under this rule means enclosing it in a sealed envelope with first class postage fully prepaid, addressed to the person to be served, and depositing the envelope and its contents in the United States mail. Service by mail is complete at the time of mailing.

   [Balance of rule omitted]
Notes: New section (B)(1)(e) explains that the LSR attorney who has appeared in the action is entitled to receive papers filed until the limited representation is terminated. The final sentence permits the LSR attorney to ask the Court that he or she not be served. This addresses the case where a client wishes an attorney to sign a court paper, but have no ongoing involvement following its filing.

Rule 2.117 Appearances

(A) Appearance by Party.

(1) A party may appear in an action by filing a notice to that effect or by physically appearing before the court for that purpose. In the latter event, the party must promptly file a written appearance and serve it on all persons entitled to service. The party’s address and telephone number must be included in the appearance.

(2) Filing an appearance without taking any other action toward prosecution or defense of the action neither confers nor enlarges the jurisdiction of the court over the party. An appearance entitles a party to receive copies of all pleadings and papers as provided by MCR 2.107(A). In all other respects, the party is treated as if the appearance had not been filed.

(B) Appearance by Attorney.

(1) In General. An attorney may appear by an act indicating that the attorney represents a party in the action. An appearance by an attorney for a party is deemed an appearance by the party. Unless a particular rule indicates otherwise, any act required to be performed by a party may be performed by the attorney representing the party.

(2) Notice of Appearance.

(a) If an appearance is made in a manner not involving the filing of a paper with the court, the attorney must promptly file a written appearance and serve it on the parties entitled to service. The attorney’s address and telephone number must be included in the appearance.

(b) If an attorney files an appearance, but takes no other action toward prosecution or defense of the action, the appearance entitles the attorney to service of pleadings and papers as provided by MCR 2.107(A).

(c) Pursuant to MRPC 1.2(b), a party to a civil action may appear through an attorney for limited purposes during the course of an action, including, but not limited to, depositions, hearings, discovery, and motion practice, if the following conditions are satisfied: (1) The attorney files and serves a Notice of Limited Appearance with the court before or during the relevant action or proceeding, and all parties of record are served with the limited entry of appearance; and (2) The Notice of Limited Appearance identifies the limitation of the scope by date, time period, and/or subject matter. An attorney who has filed a Notice of Limited Appearance, must restrict activities in accordance with the attorney’s appearance or any amended limited appearance. Should an attorney’s representation exceed the scope of the limited appearance, opposing counsel by motion, or the court, by order to show cause, may set a hearing to establish the actual scope of the representation.

(3) Appearance by Law Firm.

(a) A pleading, appearance, motion, or other paper filed by a law firm on behalf of a client is deemed the appearance of the individual attorney first filing a paper in the action. All notices required by these rules may be served on that individual. That attorney’s appearance continues until an order of substitution or withdrawal is entered, or a conforming Notice of Withdrawal of a Notice of Limited Appearance is filed as provided by subrule (C)(3). This subrule is not intended to prohibit other attorneys in the law firm from appearing in the action on behalf of the party.

(b) The appearance of an attorney is deemed to be the appearance of every member of the law firm. Any attorney in the firm may be required by the court to conduct a court ordered conference or trial.

(C) Duration of Appearance by Attorney.

(1) Unless otherwise stated or ordered by the court, an attorney's appearance applies only in the court in which it is made, or to which the action is transferred, until a final judgment or final order is entered disposing of all claims by or against the party whom the attorney represents and the time for appeal of right has passed. The appearance applies in an appeal taken before entry of final judgment or final order by the trial court.

(2) Unless otherwise stated in this rule, an attorney who has entered an appearance may withdraw from the action or be substituted for only on order of the court.

(3) An attorney who has filed a Notice of Limited Appearance pursuant to MCR 2.117(B)(2)(c) and MRPC 1.2(b) may withdraw by filing a Notice of Withdrawal from Limited Appearance with the court, served on all parties of record, stating that the attorney's limited representation has concluded; certifying that the attorney has taken all actions necessitated by the limited representation; and providing to the court a current service address and telephone number for the self-represented litigant. If the Notice of Withdrawal from Limited Appearance is signed by the client, it shall be effective immediately upon filing and service. If it is not signed by the client, it shall become effective 14 days after filing and service, unless the self-represented client files and serves a written objection to the withdrawal on the grounds that the attorney did not complete the agreed upon services.

(D) Nonappearance of Attorney Assisting in Document Preparation. An attorney who assists in the preparation of pleadings or other papers without signing them, as authorized in MRPC 1.2 (b), has not, and shall not be deemed to have filed an appearance. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the court from investigating issues concerning the preparation of such a paper.

Notes: There is a need to accommodate two competing interests. On the one hand, a limited scope representation attorney must have comfort that the attorney’s limited appearance will indeed be limited consistent with the identified scope of the representation. On the other hand, attorneys must not use limited scope representation abusively or in a manner to avoid the established requirements of general representation. Thus, the proposed rule casts an affirmative obligation upon all counsel and the court to ensure limited representation is properly limited.

Rule 6.001 Scope; Applicability of Civil Rules; Superseded Rules and Statutes

(A) Felony Cases. The rules in subchapters 6.000-6.500 govern matters of procedure in criminal cases cognizable in the circuit courts and in courts of equivalent criminal jurisdiction.

(B) Misdemeanor Cases. MCR 6.001-6.004, 6.005(B) and (C), 6.006, 6.102(D) and (F), 6.103, 6.104(A), 6.106, 6.125, 6.202, 6.427, 6.435, 6.440, 6.445(A)-(G), and the rules in subchapter 6.600 govern matters of procedure in criminal cases cognizable in the district courts.
(C) Juvenile Cases. The rules in subchapter 6.900 govern matters of procedure in the district courts and in circuit courts and courts of equivalent criminal jurisdiction in cases involving juveniles against whom the prosecutor has authorized the filing of a criminal complaint as provided in MCL 764.1f.

(D) Civil Rules Applicable. The provisions of the rules of civil procedure apply to cases governed by this chapter, except
(1) as otherwise provided by rule or statute,
(2) when it clearly appears that they apply to civil actions only, or
(3) when a statute or court rule provides a like or different procedure.

(4) with regard to limited appearances and Notices of Limited Appearances.

Depositions and other discovery proceedings under subchapter 2.300 may not be taken for the purposes of discovery in cases governed by this chapter. The provisions of MCR 2.501(C) regarding the length of notice of trial assignment do not apply in cases governed by this chapter.

(E) Rules and Statutes Superseded. The rules in this chapter supersede all prior court rules in this chapter and any statutory procedure pertaining to and inconsistent with a procedure provided by a rule in this chapter.

Notes: Limited scope representation could be available in some criminal as well as civil matters, but this proposal excludes criminal representation in accordance with instruction from the 21st Century Practice Task Force that civil matters should be prioritized first.

II. Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct

Rule 1.0 Scope and Applicability of Rules and Commentary

[Includes Proposed Additions to Terminology Section only]

TERMINOLOGY

“Confirmed in writing,” when used in reference to the informed consent of a person, denotes informed consent that is given in writing confirming an oral informed consent. If it is not feasible to obtain or transmit the writing at the time the person give informed consent, then the lawyer must obtain or transmit it within a reasonable time thereafter.

“Informed consent,” denotes the agreement by a person to a proposed course of conduct after the lawyer has communicated adequate information and explanation about the material risks of and reasonably available alternatives to the proposed course of conduct.

Rule: 1.2 Scope of Representation

(a) A lawyer shall seek the lawful objectives of a client through reasonably available means permitted by law and these rules. A lawyer does not violate this rule by acceding to reasonable requests of opposing counsel that do not prejudice the rights of the client, by being punctual in fulfilling all professional commitments, or by avoiding offensive tactics. A lawyer shall abide by a client's decision whether to accept an offer of settlement or mediation evaluation of a matter. In a criminal case, the lawyer shall abide by the client's decision, after consultation with the lawyer, with respect to a plea to be entered, whether to waive jury trial, and whether the client will testify. In representing a client, a lawyer may, where permissible, exercise professional judgment to waive or fail to assert a right or position of the client.

(b) A lawyer licensed to practice in the State of Michigan may limit the objectives scope of the representation if the client consents, limitation is reasonable under the circumstances and the client gives informed consent, preferably in writing. Such lawyer may file a limited appearance in a civil action and act as counsel of record for the limited purpose identified in that appearance.

A lawyer licensed to practice in the State of Michigan may draft or partially draft pleadings, briefs, and other papers to be filed with the court. Such assistance does not require the signature or identification of the lawyer, but does require the following statement, “This document was drafted or partially drafted with the assistance of a licensed Michigan lawyer pursuant to Michigan Rule of Professional Conduct 1.2(b).”

The filing of such documents is not and shall not be deemed an appearance by the lawyer in the case. Any filing prepared pursuant to this rule shall be signed by the party designated as “self-represented” and shall not be signed by the lawyer who provided drafting preparation assistance. Further, the lawyer providing document preparation assistance without entering a general appearance may rely on the client's representation of facts, unless the lawyer has reason to believe that such representation is false, seeks objectives that are inconsistent with the lawyer's obligation under the Rules of Professional Conduct, or asserts claims or defenses pursuant to pleadings or papers that would, if signed by the lawyer, violate MCR 2.114, or which are materially insufficient.

(c) A lawyer shall not counsel a client to engage, or assist a client, in conduct that the lawyer knows is illegal or fraudulent, but a lawyer may discuss the legal consequences of any proposed course of conduct with a client and may counsel or assist a client to make a good-faith effort to determine the validity, scope, meaning, or application of the law.

(d) When a lawyer knows that a client expects assistance not permitted by the Rules of Professional Conduct or other law, the lawyer shall consult with the client regarding the relevant limitations on the lawyer's conduct.

Notes: The Bar should provide access to, and encourage, continuing legal education in this area. It should be promoted as free, accessible online, and valuable to the attorney as a means to ensure that he or she can provide limited scope engagements in an ethical and professional manner.

Official commentary to a revised MRPC 1.2(b) should include a discussion of what it means for a limited representation to be “reasonable under the circumstances.” Our sense is that in almost all cases, parties are better off with limited representation than they are with no representation. Yet limited scope representation is not always reasonable. Factors to weigh in deciding whether the limitation is reasonable under the circumstances include but are not limited to: the apparent capacity of the person to proceed effectively given the complexity and type of matter, under the facts as communicated to the attorney, with the limited scope assistance and other self-help resources available. For example, some self-represented persons may seek objectives that are inconsistent with an attorney’s obligation under the Rules of Professional Conduct, or assert claims or defenses pursuant to pleadings or motions that would, if signed by an attorney, violate MCR 2.114 [Signatures of Attorneys and Parties; Verification; Effect; Sanctions]. Attorneys must be reasonably diligent to ensure a limited scope representation does not advance improper objectives.

Parties seeking representation may be agitated, pressed for time, and disorganized, due to the stresses of litigation, or for other reasons. Some parties may be illiterate, mentally or emotionally disabled, or have poor communication skills. A lawyer considering limited scope representation should decline such representation when the lawyer is unsure that the client understands or agrees to the objectives to be realized or the limits of the representation.

It is seldom, if ever, reasonable for an attorney to attempt to divide up what the client wishes to be a general representation into a series of limited scope representations, with each ensuing representation conditioned on the replenishment of a retainer. In such cases, the attorney must file a general appearance in the action.

Rule: 4.2 Communication With a Person Represented by Counsel

In representing a client, a lawyer shall not communicate about the subject of the representation with a party person whom the lawyer knows to be represented in the matter by another lawyer, unless the lawyer has the consent of the other lawyer or is authorized by law to do so.

An otherwise self-represented person receiving limited representation in accordance with Rule 1.2(b) is considered to be self-represented for purposes of this Rule unless the opposing lawyer knows of, or has been provided with, a written Notice of Limited Appearance comporting with MCR 2.117(B)(2)(c) or other written communication advising of the limited scope representation. Oral communication shall be made first to the limited scope representation lawyer, who may, after consultation with the client, authorize oral communications directly with the client as agreed.

Until a Notice of Termination of Limited Scope Representation comporting with MCR 2.117(B)(2)(c) is filed or other written communication terminating the limited scope representation is provided, all written communication, both court filings and otherwise, shall be served upon both the client and the limited scope representation attorney.

Notes: Amendments to this rule must conform to proposed changes to MCR 2.107 (Service), which requires service of court-filed documents on both the client and the limited scope representation attorney. We believe it prudent to require all written communication to be made in that fashion. Oral communication should be made first to the limited scope representation attorney, to permit discussion between that attorney and his or her client as to how to proceed. Our language differs from the State of Washington’s language, which we found unnecessarily unwieldy.

Rule: 4.3 Dealing With an UnSelf-Represented Person

In dealing on behalf of a client with a person who is not represented by counsel, a lawyer shall not state or imply that the lawyer is disinterested. When the lawyer knows or reasonably should know that the unself-represented person misunderstands the lawyer’s role in the matter, the lawyer shall make reasonable efforts to correct the misunderstanding.
Clients receiving representation under a Notice of Limited Appearance comporting with MCR 2.117(B)(2)(c) or other written communication advising of the limited scope representation are not self-represented persons for matters within the scope of the limited appearance, until a Notice of Termination of Limited Appearance Representation comporting with MCR 2.117(B)(2)(c) is filed or other written communication terminating the limited scope representation is provided. See Rule 4.2.

Notes: The proposed language, rather than repeat proposed additions to MRPC 4.2, simply points back to them.

4. Other Components of a Comprehensive LSR System

A. Education
The Bar should provide access to, and encourage, continuing legal education for attorneys in this area. It should be promoted as free, accessible online, and valuable to the attorney as a means to ensure that he or she can provide limited scope engagements in an ethical and professional manner. In addition to lawyers, educational information about LSR should be available to judges and courts and to the public. Members of the Unbundling work group reviewed information and samples from many other states with highly developed materials and were more than satisfied that Michigan could easily adapt comprehensive educational supports based on the work of others.

Topics covered should include:
   a. Rules/ethics
   b. Forms: court forms and practice forms
   c. Online/other referral systems, including indicating which lawyers have had LSR training
   d. Business models for a successful LSR practice
   e. Tips and best practices for LSR
   f. How to file a grievance if needed

Education can occur in:
   a. SBM practice management center
   b. ICLE
   c. Michigan Judicial Institute
   d. Law firm internal trainings
   e. Online handbook for lawyers
   f. Webinars
   g. Videos
   h. Toolkits
   i. Listservs (or other group/forum for discussion among lawyers of issues and solutions)
   j. Paper handout for the public on what is LSR, why it may help and how to find an LSR attorney
   k. Bench book for judges

B. Referral Systems
Effective referral of cases to qualified unbundled attorneys will require:
   1) Creation of online and other systems to direct potential clients to qualified unbundled lawyers
   2) Compliance/coordination with established/recognized state/local lawyer referral systems
3) Integration with triage systems, Michigan Legal Help, future online Pro Bono efforts, and any other platform where large numbers of potential LSR clients turn for assistance and information
4) Consistency of information/wording between key systems (e.g., MLH and ZeekBeek)
5) Education of lawyers, courts and the public on how/when to use LSR referral systems
6) Adequate technology to make the use of (possible multiple) systems seamless and user friendly
7) Mechanism to advise potential clients which lawyers have taken LSR training
8) Mechanisms to filter and print lists of qualified LSR lawyers by geography, specialty, other (already exists in ZeekBeek)

The above considerations are part of larger ongoing discussions among the State Bar, the State Court Administrative Office, the Michigan State Bar Foundation, and Michigan Legal Help. This coalition should continue to work together to assure coordinated, effective, consistent, user friendly, seamless statewide technology for customers.

The State Bar’s online lawyer directory (“ZeekBeek”) should be designed so any lawyer who wants to hold himself or herself out as an LSR attorney can check a box in their ZeekBeek profile to self-verify they have been through LSR training (see section 4.A. above). In that way, MLH or any other source can refer self-represented litigants to information that will tell them who has been through the training, also hopefully in their geographic area and the type of legal problem they have. Potential clients can find this themselves online (and it will be promoted and explained on the SBM and MLH sites and perhaps others), or this will allow judges, legal aid or others to filter the names and print out a list of lawyers trained in LSR (and also any others who have not check that box but who take LSR cases if desired). If there remain other LRIS systems in Michigan that operate independently of ZeekBeek, similar referral mechanisms may be set up with them also.

C. Evaluation
I. Purpose of an Evaluation Component
The primary goal of evaluation is to assess the effectiveness of Limited Scope Representation in Michigan and to allow for course correction--adjustment and improvement--intending to increase access to effective, affordable, accessible legal services. This goal will be accomplished with shared learning by understanding:

- the adoption rate of LSR services among attorneys
- who is offering LSR services,
- who is using LRS services,
- the types of LSR services being provided,
- how LRS services are being used,
- costs to consumers and time spent by attorneys
- what challenges affect LSR service providers,
- what challenges affect LSR service consumers,
- what challenges, if any, affect opposing counsel or pro se parties in cases where LSR is being provided
- how LSR services affect the courts,
- how LSR services affect litigants,
- how effective are the LSR training resources and support,
- how effective referral mechanisms are with connecting SLRs to high-quality, affordable LSR attorneys willing to provide the services they need the quality of LSR services being provided, whether there are any patterns of abuse that need to be addressed, whether LSR services are advancing access to justice by providing representation those unable to afford traditional legal services, and whether there are any changes recommended to the rules and/or other areas of the LSR system to increase the quality, effectiveness and accessibility of LSR in its goal of increasing ATJ

II. Evaluation Constituents
These impacted groups should be included for evaluation: LSR providers (lawyers), opposing counsel, LSR consumers (clients), and courts (judges, staff). Additional data could come from court filing data (# limited appearances, # SRL/attorney prepared filings), self-help centers and programs, the lawyer discipline system (complaints), and malpractice providers (complaints, claims).

III. Evaluation Tools
A. LSR Program Surveys
Surveys are the most common evaluation tool used by existing LSR projects. Surveys are easy to offer, complete, and compile. They are affordable.
B. LSR Program Interviews
Interviews, although more time intensive and more costly than surveys, can provide more detailed and nuanced feedback.
C. Early Adopter Cohorts
Early adopters identified by participating in early training (and/or certification, if required) could consent to serve as a feedback cohort providing either ongoing or periodic input on benefits and challenges of developing and using a LSR practice model. With consent, their clients could provide early feedback. Early adopter cohorts could be identified within the court.
D. Court Filing Data
If possible, all courts or representative courts could track and provide data on the number of limited scope appearances and data to compare with traditional appearances and LSR no appearance filings and the number of attorney prepared filings for SRL’s if so required to be disclosed on filings.
E. Self Help Center/MLH Data and Surveys
Both Self Help Centers and MLH routinely survey constituents. Questions about LSR could easily be incorporated and results shared.
F. Court Satisfaction Surveys
Courts offer customer satisfaction surveys. Those courts willing to help educate the public about LSR services may be willing to include questions about awareness of LSR services and willingness to use or use of LSR services.
G. Claims Data
To assess quality assurance, data on complaints and claims could be collected from the attorney discipline system and from leading attorney insurance providers.

IV. Evaluation Timing
A. Early Evaluation
Early evaluation is appropriate around the LSR program roll out. It can include snap surveys following in person or online training of lawyers, judges, and other court staff with questions around clarity, comprehensiveness, understanding of rules, forms, resources and support, intention to engage in LSR, and willingness to join an early adopter cohort. Early evaluation will also include information learned from support networks (listserv, LSR section, hotlines, etc.). This feedback will support course corrections and improvements of training, forms, and support.

B. Post Implementation Evaluation

Fuller assessment of the program success and implementation should come only after adequate time for education and broader adoption of LSR services. This evaluation component should begin no sooner than 1 year from the effective date with the expectation of reporting progress with recommendations for improvements or changes within 2 years.

V. Sample Questions

The following are a sampling of possible evaluation questions for providers (attorneys), consumers (clients) and the court. Those directing evaluation when it occurs will craft, place, and tailor questions to circumstances and evaluation tool including offering a selection of answers and assuring that questions posed, particularly to the public, are crafted in plain language.

A. Providers/Attorneys

- How did you learn about limited scope legal services?
- How did you get education and training about limited scope? How effective was the training in helping you gain the knowledge and resources you needed to competently practice LSR?
- In the last 12 months, how many limited scope clients have you represented?
- What kinds of limited scope services did you provide?
- What kinds of tasks were reserved to the client?
- What is your fee structure?
- How much time do you usually spend on a case?
- How much time did you expect to spend on a case, vs. how much time was actually spent?
- Did you have a limited scope service agreement?
- Did the scope of services change during the representation?
- Do you intend to continue to provide limited scope services in the future?
- Are there any additional resources, rules, or support that would help you better provide LSR?

B. Consumers/Clients

- How did you learn about limited scope legal services?
- Were you able to find an attorney to provide the LSR services you requested?
- If so, how did you find your limited scope attorney?
- What kinds of limited scope services did your attorney provide?
- Were the services affordable? How much did you pay? (With ranges, and whether hourly, flat fee, etc.)
- Did you sign a limited scope services agreement with your attorney?
- Was it clear to you from the beginning what tasks your attorney would do?
- Were you satisfied with the limited scope services your attorney provided? Did the legal services provided help you to better understand for and prepare for your case? Were you able to receive all the services you requested, or that you needed to adequately complete your case?
- Would you recommend limited scope legal services to others?
Would you have hired an attorney if your only choice was full representation?

C. Courts
   - How did you learn about limited scope services including limited appearance?
   - Do you support attorneys providing limited scope services?
   - Do you support allowing a limited scope appearance?
   - Have you had limited appearance attorneys in your court?
   - Did having a limited scope attorneys appear to benefit the litigant?
   - Did having a limited scope attorney benefit the court? If yes, how?
   - Have you shared information about limited scope services with litigants?
   - How are litigants directed to find limited scope attorneys?

D. Opposing Counsel or Opposing Parties, if pro se
   - Do you think LSR had an impact on your case? If so, how? Did opposing a party who was receiving LSR appear to help or hinder the process?
   - Were the processes and your responsibilities clear to you? (I.e., regarding issues such as service and communication)
   - Is there anything you would recommend to help counsel or parties who are opposing litigants receiving LSR?

The Unbundling work group reviewed LSR evaluation resources from many other states and is satisfied there is ample experience to support Michigan’s work.

D. Forms
Below are sample forms consistent with the proposed rule amendments to illustrate the kinds of tools that would assist attorneys, clients and courts. The Unbundling work group reviewed additional resources and found many more high quality practice support forms. Included here are
- LSR Scope of Agreement and Engagement Letter
- Consent
- Notice of Limited Scope Appearance in Civil Action
- Notice of Limited Scope Representation for the Purposes of Communication
- Form for withdrawal of Limited Scope Appearance in Civil Action
- End of Representation Letter
