Explain the merits of your nomination, submit any supporting materials for your nominee by e-mail, fax, or mail. Give specific examples.	My attached letter details the merits of selecting Mr. Tieber, but his commitment to working on behalf of those wrongfully convicted is one of the biggest accomplishments that Mr. Tieber has made to our state. He was instrumental in establishing the Innocence Project and serve as the first chairperson of the Innocence Project Commission. As detailed in my letter, his commitment recently resulted in the exoneration of an innocent man – there can be no bigger accomplishment than saving a person's life.

CRIMINAL DEFENSE TRAINING ACTIVITIES

Since 1978, I have served as a trainer with respect to the substance and procedure of criminal defense work and, especially, on various aspects of legislative advocacy. I have run training workshops and seminars for the following groups, among others:

 Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan
 Michigan Community Corrections Board

 Institute for Continuing Legal Education
 Upper Michigan Legal Institute, State Bar of Michigan and ICLE

In 2002 I attended, by select invitation, the two-week, widely acclaimed National Criminal Defense College trial litigation training program in Macon, Georgia.

SPEAKING/PUBLISHING/IMPACT LITIGATION AWARDS

Since 1978 I have accepted a substantial number of speaking invitations issued by, among others, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan, the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency, the State Bar of Michigan, the Institute of Continuing Legal Education, and the Michigan Judicial Institute.

I have published several articles on criminal law topics in the Michigan State Bar Journal and the Michigan Criminal Defense Newsletter, particularly in the area of federal habeas corpus litigation. I was named a recipient of the Cooley Law Review Distinguished Brief Award, for a Michigan Supreme Court brief on the issue of appellate review of sentencing, published in Volume 3, Number 3 at p. 377 (1985).

In January of 1990, I published a report entitled "Michigan's Corrections Crisis--Causes, Effects and Specific Policy and Fiscal Solutions." The report was well received by state government and garnered favorable press coverage, including editorial support.

Since 1978 I have handled special, major cases and "impact litigation." In 1991 I won release for my client in a complex major murder case that was the subject of a front page series run in the Detroit News and received substantial publicity for a successful attack on the good time policy of the Michigan Department of Corrections, a suit which saved the State of Michigan over 14 million dollars in incarceration costs.

In November of 1991 I received a special award from the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan, a state-wide organization consisting primarily of private practitioners who focus on criminal defense litigation. The award recognized "outstanding contributions" and focused on my accomplishments in winning a seat for the criminal defense bar on two critical boards: The Michigan Justice Training Commission, a state body which awards millions of dollars per year in training grants, and the Michigan State Bar Criminal Law Section Council.

In January of 2003 I was selected as one of the top ten lawyers in the state of Michigan for the year 2002 by Michigan Lawyers Weekly, a state-wide trade publication.

Re: Unsung Hero Award Nomination for F. Martin Tieber

Dear Ms. Sharlow and Representative Assembly Members,

I am proud to nominate F. Martn Tieber for the State Bar of Michigan's Unsung Hero Award. Mr. Tieber has been dedicated to defending the rights of men and women in criminal defense cases for over forty years. He is unanimously regarded as one of the nation's top appellate attorneys, and he has the respect of all those who know him.

There are many reasons to recognize Mr. Tieber with this award. He has been described by the Detroit Free Press and Michigan Lawyers Weekly as "one of the nation's top criminal appellate experts." For a quarter century he directed the Lansing office of the State Appellate Defender, a nationally acclaimed agency. His appellate experience consists of hundreds of cases, and, since 1973, he has successfully practiced in nearly all of Michigan's trial courts, the Michigan Court of Appeals, the Michigan Supreme Court, the federal district courts for the Eastern and Western Districts in Michigan, the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, and the United States Supreme Court.

He has served as President of the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan and is a Life Member of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers. In 2002, Mr. Tieber was recognized by Michigan Lawyers Weekly as a Lawyer of the Year. He was instrumental in establishing Michigan's Innocence Project in 2002 and was elected the first chairperson of the Innocence Project Commission. He served for decades as an adjunct professor at Western Michigan University-Thomas M. Cooley Law School in Lansing, Michigan, and he has lectured extensively on many criminal law issues – including Michigan post-conviction practice and federal habeas litigation

I could go on and on, and while Mr. Tieber's accomplishments are vast, I would like to share one recent success that personifies his commitment to his legal work and the people he defends.

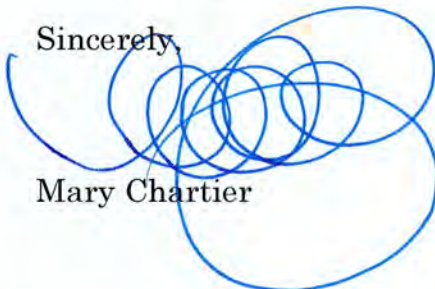

In 2006, Dennis Tomasik, a hard-working husband and father with no criminal record, was wrongfully accused of sexual assault by a troubled teenager. This started a nightmare that would result in Mr. Tomasik being convicted of two counts of criminal sexual conduct in 2007. He was sentenced to 12 to 50 years in prison, and he would serve 9 years in Michigan's prisons. Throughout those 9 years, Mr. Tieber and his son Kris Tieber stood by his side and fought for his release. The vast majority of the work was done pro bono. Mr. Tieber never gave up because he knew that Mr. Tomasik was innocent, and the Michigan Supreme Court finally reversed the convictions in 2015 and remanded the case for a new trial. In 2017, the retrial of Mr. Tomasik occurred and the jury found him not guilty of both counts after deliberating for only 19 minutes. His exoneration is now listed in the National Registry of Exonerations and a more complete account of his exoneration is provided through this link.

<https://www.law.umich.edu/special/exoneration/Pages/casedetail.aspx?caseid=5102>

I know quite a bit about the Tomasik case and the work that Mr. Tieber engaged in because I was one of the two attorneys who handled Mr. Tomasik's retrial. While we were the ones standing by Mr. Tomasik when he was exonerated by the jury, it was Mr. Tieber who stood beside Mr. Tomasik for 9 years. Without his work, there would never have been an opportunity for the retrial and exoneration.

I know that you will receive many worthy applicants for this award, but I am confident that there is no one more worthy of this award than Mr. Tieber. His work resulted in an innocent man being released from prison, clearing his name, and getting his life back. He is my hero and the hero of many, and I ask that you select him as the State Bar of Michigan's Unsung Hero for 2017.

Sincerely,

Re: F. Martin Tieber, Unsung Hero Award

Dear Ms. Sharlow:

We are writing in support of F. Martin Tieber's nomination for the State Bar's Unsung Hero Award. Marty has been an attorney in good standing since his admission in 1975 and has earned the right to be recognized by the bar for all that he has accomplished.

Marty has had a distinguished career in practice, first as a staff attorney then as an administrator at the State Appellate Defender Office (SADO). After 20+ years with the Appellate Defender, Marty entered private practice specializing in criminal appeals. Michigan Reports and Michigan Appellate Reports contain many significant cases Marty argued.

It is not necessarily Marty's expertise as a practitioner that qualifies Marty Tieber for this award. Instead it is his consistent dedication to justice and the rights afforded to all under our constitution that warrants the greatest consideration. While Deputy Defender at SADO, Marty testified before the state Legislature on many issues involving criminal justice. He worked closely with the late Senator William Van Regenmorter in the development of the Victim Rights Act.

He was also involved in the former Michigan Justice Training Commission and its transition into the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards. Marty worked to assure that a criminal defense representative had a seat on the commission, one that is still held by the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan. Finally, Marty helped to establish the very first Innocence Project in Michigan at Western Michigan Thomas Cooley Law School. That project is still functioning and has established exonerations in several cases.

Marty Tieber's accomplishments have been recognized by other groups. The Detroit Free Press hailed Marty as one of the nation's top appellate experts while Michigan Lawyers Weekly named him one of its 2002 Lawyers of the Year. Both are accurate and well-deserved. The State Bar unsung Hero Award is equally well-deserved. We encourage the Representative Assembly to give him serious consideration.

Sincerely,
